SEVENTY-THIRD YEAR.

SATURDAY, JAN. 2 1908.

INCREASE YOUR BUSINESS.

Start the New Year right and make up your mind to double your business so that a year from today your cash book will cause you to wear a broad smile. Advertise your business kept in the public eye the year through. The public is interested in what you have in stock if you will let them know you have it. The public needs you more than ever to help the public who are to prosper. Keep that trade in Quincy. Judicious advertising of the up-to-date sort will do this for you. Get busy.

INAUGURATION DAY.

The inauguration of the twenty-first year of the City Government on Monday will differ but little from other years. There is always local interest in the exercises however and the Council chamber will doubtless be none too large to accommodate those who desire to attend.

Parades at the hour of noon on the inauguration day will enter the Council chamber from the rear entrance. City Messenger Harry W. Tirrell will lead the way followed by Mayor Willard T. Shea, City Clerk Harrison A. Keith and Rev. Henry T. Grady, pastor of St. Mary's church who will open the exercises with prayer.

City Clerk Keith will preside until after the Council is organized. His first duty will be to administer the oath of office to Mayor Shea. He will then call the roll of the Council to whom he will also administer the oath of office. Mayor Shea will then be presented and deliver his inaugural address.

Over the Council will preside until organization by the election of a president, clerk of council and committees, city messenger and city auditor. These will be elected by roll call. After the oath is administered to the Clerk the Council will get down to business. The first thing will be the drawing of seats. As a matter of courtesy members of the Council will probably be permitted to retain their old seats.

Regular business will then be in order. This will include communications from the Mayor who will send in a list of constables and special police officers.

There are several things to do at this first meeting. These are to adopt rules of the Council of 1908 as the rules of the present Council, elect two trustees to the City Library, a member of the Board of Managers of the Woodward Fund and Property.

At the regular meeting of the Council comes that evening the rules will probably be suspended and an adjournment made until the second Sunday in the month.

CHRISTMAS AT DAY NURSERY.

The Christmas festival of the Day Nursery was held Saturday, Dec. 26, at the pleasant new home of the Nursery on Garfield street. The children with their mothers and ladies interested in the Nursery came together about 2:30 P. M. Mrs. Jones, the efficient matron had prepared a program of songs and recitations by the children of the Nursery which was much enjoyed by every one.

Five young girls from the Wollaston Unitarian Sunday school added to the pleasure of the afternoon by the singing of carols and recitation. Then the tree with its load of good things was dismantled. There were tops for each of the little ones beside fruit, candy, some stockings and mittens. After the tree came ice cream for all. A treat provided by Mrs. King. The president Mrs. Sibley was in charge of this very successful celebration ably seconded by the assistants Mrs. Jameson and Mrs. King.

LADIES' NIGHT.

The annual ladies' night of St. Stephens Royal Arch Chapter was held Wednesday evening at Maxim's. A large number of companions were present with their ladies and the affair was not only one of pleasure for those present but was a very pretty one as well.

Excellent High Priest, John Morgan was chairman of the reception committee and he was assisted by a large corps, who saw to it that the comfort and pleasure of the ladies was well looked after.

Excellent Companion made himself a reception committee of one which turned the affair into a large character gathering.

The program opened with a selection by Maxim's orchestra and was followed by a piano solo by Mr. Clark, who also gave a piano and Xylophone solo with a boy's voice.

Miss Cleaves was down for two numbers. Her readings were well selected and given in a manner that was very pleasing. She responded to encores on each number.

The pianolongues by Miss Livermore were a novelty in their way and she immediately captivated her audience. The piano solo was a selection "Put it in your repertoire" and contained a number of suggestions to the ladies on capturing, and on the management of a man. Perhaps the suggestions given may be practiced by the ladies present. For an encore she gave "It Goes." Her other numbers were equally as pleasing.

Miss Ennis, who gave a character sketch and Mr. Ennis an Irish character sketch in costume and the trio gave a black face comedy. These were given in costume and were very amusing.

The conclusion of the entertainment program refreshments were served. The banquet hall and main room were then converted into a ball room and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

Excellent Companion Albert W. Fay had charge of this part of the program assisted by a corps of efficient aids.

Special cars were run to Wollaston, West Quincy and Braintree at midnight.

N. S. C. ELECT OFFICERS.

At a regular meeting of the National Sportsman club of West Quincy, held last Tuesday night, the following officers were elected:

President—John C. Maxim.
Secretary—John C. Maxim.
Treasurer—David Sandham.

Executive Committee—Alexander Gillis, Albert Klenkle and Harry Gustafson.

Mr. A. Fagen of Wollaston has a good number of the fixtures of the house which should be of interest. Looking ahead to the spring now is a good time to look over the household furnishings and see if they need renovating.

CITY BRIEFS.

The alarm from Box 21 at 3:15 Monday was for a grass fire off Granite street.

Several of the Boston papers are printing news of the earthquake in the Italian language.

The Hustlers' club held an oyster supper and entertainment at their club rooms New Year's eve.

Mrs. Mila G. Bates, who is teaching at Orleans, is at her home on Dimmock street for the Christmas recess.

The alarm from Box 138 at 8:26 A. M. Wednesday was for a fire in a bag of charcoal in a house on Nightingale street.

C. J. Hogue who underwent an operation for appendicitis on Saturday is doing nicely and is on his way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin T. Holbrook and daughter Dorothy are spending the winter vacation with Mrs. Holbrook's parents, in Maine.

The Delta Psi Delta, a society composed chiefly of '04 Quincy high school girls, is planning to give an invitation dance early in January.

Considerable building is being done at Adams Shore this winter. Two large two story houses are being constructed on the west shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. French of New York have guests this week of Mrs. French's mother, Mrs. John Whitney Hall of Hancock street.

Col. Edward Anderson gives an address before the Men's club of Christ church Monday evening on "From Colchon On." There will also be a card singing.

The engagement of William J. Dunstan of Quincy, to Miss Minnie G. Carson's daughter, Mrs. Mary J. Carson formerly of Dorchester, is calling forth much excitement.

Arrangements are being made for brief exercises in the assembly hall of the new Coddington school building when it is formally accepted by the school.

The Library staff lunched together at Hotel Greedell Friday by invitation of the librarian. Not one word of business was allowed on penalty of a forfeit and it was a merry meal, followed by music, singing and dancing in the parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith went to New Rochelle, N. Y., to be guests over Christmas of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home on Hancock and Coddington street, Quincy.

On Tuesday Jan. 5 the regular monthly meeting of the Day Nursery association will be held at the Women's club house at 3 P. M. This is the first meeting of New Year and it is hoped there will be a large attendance as matters of importance will be brought up.

It is thought by friends that Albert W. Smith, who enlisted over a year ago, is now on his way to Italy as he was on the supply ship "Celtic," which President Roosevelt directed to sail at once with supplies to the stricken earthquake victims. Mr. Smith enjoyed the Christmas season in Quincy and left for New York Wednesday.

Seven tables were in play at the weekly whilst tournament of the Granite City Club Wednesday evening. The high scores with one exception ran very close and this was a case of a fraction of one percent to decide the winner of the second prize. George Pratt was the big man with 70 percent and J. T. Fuller second with 69 percent. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the tournament.

Music by women composers, American and foreign, will be interpreted at the next Students' recital the evening of January 7th at Colonial hall. The program will open with songs by Mrs. Julius Ward Howe, whose talent as a composer was known to the public on her eighty-ninth birthday anniversary. John D. Gourlie was the star of the evening. His acting was almost perfect.

Another clever performer was Miss Beatrice Morrison, who took the part of the Queen of Sheba in the Biblical play. She did a Harvard graduate, with plenty of brains, but with little more, Mr. and Mrs. Donna Caswell and Son Fred of Lawrence have returned from a visit to Mrs. Caswell's sister, Emma S. Moore, Miss Winifred White and Mrs. Anna M. Adams.

CITY BRIEFS.

Miss Gladys Ganzel of Dimmock street entertained a few friends at her home Thursday evening to watch the old year out and the new year in.

Quincy people are interested in the concert to be given by the Wollaston Glee club on Jan. 19th, as many are in the club or have friends in the club.

The song recital by Mr. Pol Plancon at Colonial hall on Jan. 12th is attractive, considerable time in musical circles and the hall will hardly be large enough to accommodate all who wish to attend.

A fine musical program has been prepared for the vesper service at four o'clock Sunday at First church, Rev. C. B. Ames, assistant pastor of the church will give a short sermon. These services will continue every Sunday through January.

The body of Mrs. Susan widow of George H. Hobby of Southboro who died Sunday was brought to Quincy for burial Wednesday. Mrs. Hobby was a daughter of the late Perez Joyce and resided for many years on Quincy street.

Letters and postals received from Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Pratt, Fay Hitchcock, who are spending their holidays in Quincy, will be sent to Quincy for her return to New England.

PEARSON—WALLIN.

A very pretty white and yellow church wedding was solemnized at Swedish Lutheran church Wednesday, when Miss Esther Marie Wallin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Wallin of 69 Parker street became the bride of Rev. August S. Pearson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, 110 N. J. St., Boston.

The ceremony took place at 2 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of the friends of the bridal couple, which included a number of clergymen, and was performed by Rev. N. Elvin, pastor of Swedish Lutheran church.

The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion with palms and azaleas, to which were added the Christmas decorations which were still in place.

Miss Marie E. Wallin, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, she carried a small bouquet of mingled pink and white roses and the bridesmaids were Miss Hulda M. Bloom of Courtland, N. Y., Miss Jessie Pieron of New Haven, Miss Alma Hanson and Miss Leonora Rodenbush of East Boston.

The annual meeting of the managers of the Woodward Institute for girls, was held Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Ellery Channing Butler by virtue of his being the pastor of the First church is the chairman of the board. The other officers elected at the meeting were: Vice Chairman, Rev. Henry G. Megathlin; Secretary, Rev. Ruben J. Davis; Finance Committee, Rev. Albert M. Thompson, Rev. Charles B. Ames, Rev. A. E. Clattenberg; Committee on Text Books, Rev. Carl G. Horst, Rev. Joseph Walthers, Rev. H. A. Davison. The school calendar as adopted is: Winter term Jan. 4 to April 21; Founder's day March 12; spring term April 12 to June 18; graduation June 16; fall term Sept. 7 to Dec. 22; new year Jan. 3, 1910.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS.

Senator Hultman and Representatives Thomas and Langelier were fortunate in being appointed on good committees of the Mass. senate and house, Wednesday. Senator Hultman was appointed a member of the committee on Harbors and Public Lands.

Representative Thomas was assigned to the committee on Meteorological Affairs, and Representative Langelier to the committee on Harbors and Public Lands.

Senator Hultman has the added distinction of being the youngest in years of any member of the Senate.

NEW BRAINTEER SOCIETY.

Nearly one hundred citizens of Braintree assembled Tuesday night in Delta Hall. Braintreers were invited to organize a society to be known as The Improvement Association of Braintree. Judge Albert E. Avery, Hon. B. Herbert Woodbury, Rev. F. R. Griffin, Rev. C. F. Hill, Crathern, Rev. Thomas Simms, Mr. G. O. Wales, and other influential people are interested. Officers for the year will be elected Jan. 12th.

WINN FIRST PRIZE.

The billiard and pool tournament at the Granite Club, which was started last year, was completed this week. There were about thirty players entered in each tournament and as every player had to play one game with each of the other players, a large number of games was necessary. It was a handicap tournament, the best players being set at scratch. That is they were required to make 100 points. The handicap of the other players ranged from 5 points to 75. The winner in both tournaments was Thomas J. Smith, whose handicap at billiards was 15. He was remarkably lucky in all of his games, many of which were won by one point. It has not been decided as yet what will be given him as a prize.

TO FILL VACANCIES.

Two vacancies in the permanent fire force caused by the resignation of Mr. J. C. Clegg, at the Central station and James Dinegan of the Wollaston station have been filled by the appointment of William M. Lacy and Daniel McNeese. The new men were appointed from the civil service lists.

They have not been assigned to any particular station, but will be shifted about as men are needed. At the present time there is one at the Central station and McNeese at Wollaston.

The vacancy in the office of Lieutenant at the Central station has not been filled as yet. When filled it will be by promotion although the man promoted will have to take a non competitive examination.

Patch, H. Everett Crane, C. Theodore Hawkrick. At a subsequent meeting of the directors Henry M. Faxon was elected President.

A NEW YEAR'S WISH.

The new years greeting card sent by Johnson Bros. to their customers has a very pretty sentiment. It says:

"Yesterday is but a dream, and to-morrow is only a vision, but today will live makes yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow vision of hope. That all tomorrow's of 1909 may bring you joy and prosperity, and all your visions of hope be realized, is the sincere wish of Johnson Bros."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING.

The annual meeting of the school committee was held Tuesday evening at the school house. All members with the exception of John L. Miller, who is in California, were present. The new members of the committee this year are Herbert S. Barker and James F. Miller.

Dr. Nathaniel S. Hunting was elected Chairman and Frank E. Parlin, superintendent and secretary.

Charles H. Johnson was elected census taker and trustee officer.

The school calendar for the year 1909 was adopted as follows:

First term from Jan. 4, to April 25.

Second term from April 12, to June 25.

The elementary schools close June 17.

The grammar school graduation will be held June 18.

The high school graduation will be held June 19.

Graduation exercises from Sept. 7, to Dec. 22.

New Year Jan. 3, 1910.

It was voted to hold the dedicatory exercises of the new Coddington school at the assembly hall in the new building at 8 o'clock, Thursday evening, Jan. 14.

The program of the exercises will be conducted by Mayor Shea, who will be the presiding officer. The Commissioner of Public Works will then receive the keys of the building from the builder Mr. Crowley and will deliver them to Dr. Hunting, chairman of the school committee.

Dr. Hunting will pass them over to Dr. E. H. Bushnell, of the committee of the Coddington building, who in turn will pass them to Walter H. Roe, the master of the school.

Superintendent Parlin will then give a brief history of the Coddington school and the reason it was given that name. Invitations to be present have been extended to the City Government and to all ex-members of the school committee.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

The newly elected officers of the Daughters of John Adams L. O. L. were publicly installed Tuesday evening at Electa hall in the presence of a large gathering of friends including the members of Quincy and Bay View lodges L. O. L. The installing officer was Mrs. Christina Milligan of Saugus. She was accompanied by the following suite: Mrs. Louise Grauer as Grand Chaplain; Mrs. Annie Munson as Grand Conductor; Mrs. Lucy Reynolds as Grand Secretary; Mrs. Annie Ross as Grand Treasurer and Mrs. Sadie McLean as Grand Deputy Mistress.

At the close of the installation ice cream and cake were served. The evening closed with a social dance until midnight.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade was held Wednesday evening in their rooms in the Adams building. President Piper presided. Reports were made by the secretary, treasurer and controller, who stated that membership had increased materially during the past year and that the financial conditions of the Board was on a firm basis.

President Piper, the Board's representative on the Citizens' Association sub-committee on City Charter reported what that committee had done thus far. This brought out an informed opinion of the city charter, which several took part in.

The different propositions for amendment were brought out and there seemed to be no general sentiment in favor of a change.

The Board then put its seal on record by passing a unanimous vote that it was inexpedient to amend the City Charter at the present time. The Foreign Goods who represented jointly the Mayor, Board of Trade and Citizens' Association at the recent Rivers and Harbors Congress at Washington, spoke on the work and the importance of the congress.

The election of officers was then held. The following were elected:

President—John R. Richards.

Vice President—R. R. Stone.

Treasurer—Charles H. Johnson.

Directors—Thomas J. Williams, Ralph W. Hobbs and James M. Nowland.

John R. Richards the new president of the Board is one of Quincy's hustling granite manufacturers. He has been particularly active with the Board from the first. He is a member of the present City Council.

After the election of officers a vote of thanks was extended the retiring President Walter E. Piper.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Mother's Association of Quincy held its January meeting in Bethany Chapel with the usual large attendance.

A short business session followed with a nominating committee of three, Mrs. William E. Alden, Mrs. W. S. Shaw and Mrs. V. E. Miller appointed to present names of officers for the ensuing year, at the February election.

Mrs. Edwin J. Beal, in the devotional exercises took for her subject "Today," and offered many inspiring and helpful thoughts for the New Year.

Mrs. Edith Cary Page, the soloist, sang "Suffer little children to come unto me" by Hewitt, "Queen of the Earth—a mother" by Pinxton and a "Slumber Song" by Newcomb. These songs were well received.

Mrs. Charles R. Safford of Atlantic, chairman of the Education Committee of the Quincy Woman's Club, was the speaker for the afternoon.

Mrs. Draper, of the Boston Association, was the guest of honor.

Mrs. Draper spoke on "The Science of Motherhood and Child Care," and the audience was greatly interested in her talk.

Mrs. Draper's talk was well received.

the Quincy Patriot.
SEVENTY-THIRD YEAR.

SATURDAY, JAN. 16, 1908.

QUINCY'S ANNEX.

Marshfield Hills is getting to be almost as annex to Quincy for quite a number of residents of Quincy are from Marshfield Hills and formerly lived in Quincy. Osborne Rogers, Howard Rogers, Henry Rogers and Miss Elizabeth Rogers are natives of Marshfield. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wright have a home in both towns. Horace P. Spear has recently bought at the Hills and is to build a handsome residence in the Spring. The late Charles A. Hall of Quincy Point and Mrs. Phillips came from the Hills.

Quincy people now at Marshfield are: William A. Rogers and Frank Rogers, sons of the late Alvin Rogers and large real estate owners; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rogers, Ralph Rogers; Walton Hall and family, proprietors of the Daniel Webster Inn; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Curtis, who summer here and winter at Washington; Lynden S. Richards, historian of Marshfield, who spends a few weeks in winter at Hotel Greenleaf and who also gave the name of Marshfield Hills to what was formerly East Marshfield. C. Rogers Richards and Miss Eleanor R. Richards, the artist of Washington are natives of Quincy who summer at Marshfield Hills.

PICKWICK CLUB.

The Pickwick club celebrated its anniversary Wednesday evening by a dinner at the Lombardy Inn in Boston. Twenty-one sat down at seven o'clock, including former members Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell, Miss Thomas and Miss Ferrer. The number was augmented by the arrival of Mr. James F. Merrill. After dinner was served Miss Hubbard, president started the members in a round of stories which proved entertaining and very varied. Mrs. Alden read an original poem, entitled "Some Toasts of the Pickwick Club, Old and New." Mr. Sessions read a poem, then a short story, and the program closed with a farcical skit by Messrs. Loring and Gurney. The sketch ended with an adaptation of the chorus, "Let's go home," which the club proceeded to do, voting the dinner a success and the evening a very satisfactory one.

PARISH MEETING.

The annual parish meeting of St. Christopher's church was held Monday evening in the parish rooms. The regular election took place and necessary business transacted. Reports of the different organizations were read. Rev. A. Edwin Clapperton, the rector, was in the chair.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Senior Warden—Frank E. Cleveland; Junior Warden—Percy L. Davidson; Treasurer—Mr. W. Atkins; Clerk—Theodore Parker.

Vestryman—Henry B. Barham, D. M. Wetmore, Herbert H. Albee, Woodford Ketchum, Robert W. Whiteacre.

Delegates to Diocesan Convention—F. E. Cleveland, V. S. Brokaw and George Curran.

Delegates to Archdeaconry Convention—Henry W. Mattfield, Charles A. Kolsted, Theodore Parker.

Rev. Mr. Clapperton made mention of the altar service book of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bean of Atlantic in thanks giving for preservation through sickness of their two oldest daughters Ruth and Dorothy. George Deans has re-wired the church and installed new lights from the ceiling giving his services for which he was heartily thanked.

Miss Nichols, the choir mother has aided the choir in many ways. Miss Louise Allison Ross the organist too deserves commendation, and does much more work than she is paid for. A member of the Altar Guild gave to the church in September a silk purple banner and veil beautifully embroidered.

Out of 175 Sunday schools in the Diocese only 38 gave more in the Lenten offering than our school did which is remarkable considering the small number in comparison with the large schools in Boston.

Refreshments were served by the Woman's Guild, Mrs. Daniel C. Miller chairman after which a social hour was enjoyed.

CLANSMAN GATHER.

At its regular meeting Monday night in Doble's hall, the officers for 1909 of Clan McGregor, No. 5 were installed by Royal Chief John Hill of St. Louis, Mo., assisted by Royal Secretary Peter Kerr and Royal Deputy Thomas Johnstone.

The event brought out a large assembly of clansmen and after the installation ceremonies a royal good time was enjoyed.

Besides the speakers of the royal visitors and chaplain Robert C. Allard, a fine musical concert was given by a number of clansmen and others. Secretary—Alva W. Clark; canon—Master William Pratt, violin; and Master Gilbert Booth, piano. There were songs by James Whyte, James McLeod, Tom Reynolds, and Clansman Carter, and dancing by James Reid and John Bisset Jr.

Refreshments were served at 10:30 o'clock. The new chief is James Birnie, second officer, George Murray; secretary, James Reid; financial secretary, John Russell; treasurer, Alex Russell. Other officers and John Bisset, Jr., Neil McDonald, Harold Johnston, John Clark and Robert Craig.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

The annual supper and business meeting of the Wollaston Congregational church, Rev. Edward A. Chase, minister, was held on Wednesday.

The present membership of the church is 205, 28 have united with the church during the year, by letter 18, by baptism 10, making 140 additions during the present pastorate.

The reports showed benevolences of $1705. Current expenses $705.

Repair and Imprudence $1822, with all bills paid and balances in the treasury of $125, making the total amount for the year $7365.

The following officers were elected:

Deacon, to serve for four years—Annis A. Lincoln.

For one year to fill an unexpired term of Joseph W. Lovett—Alfred W. Thompson.

Clerk—Charles F. West.

Treasurer—Charles P. Hutchins.

Moderator—Charles P. Hutchins.

Executive Committee—Walter A. Poore and George H. Murray.

Prudential Committee—For 2 years—George W. Stone. For 1 year—John B. Cornish, and the clerk the treasurer.

Collector of weekly offerings—Alfred W. Thompson.

Music Committee—Dr. A. P. Thompson, Herbert C. Poore and Rev. Edward A. Chase.

CITY BRIEFS.

The annual ball of Quincy Lodge of Elks will be held Feb. 17.

The Men's club of Christ church will hold their annual banquet at the Parish house, Wednesday evening, Jan. 20.

At the meeting of the Granite City club Saturday evening, resolutions were adopted to the effect of Frederick L. Jones.

Mr. H. E. Hayden of Hancock Court left Wednesday for Los Angeles, Cal., where he has accepted a position as musical director in one of the principal theatres.

Finland Lodge, I. O. G. T. are arranging for an entertainment to be held in Wilson Hall the latter part of the month. Music, speaking and a supper will interest all.

David Goldstein, a former well known socialist, will give a talk on socialism before Quincy Council Knights of Columbus next Sunday afternoon at Colonial hall.

A handsome dining room has been fitted up at the Elks club house on Foster street. When plans are completed dinners will be served at certain hours of the day.

The alarm from Box 23 at 10:58 A. M. Tuesday was for a fire in the chimney of the Souther house on Foster street occupied by Elmer W. Baker. The damage was slight.

Hon. Everett C. Bumpus is the speaker Monday evening at the Ex-Serv Institute. His subject will be Memorial and other notes taken of Panama and the Isthmian Canal.

Mr. Everett Crane of Presidents hills was elected one of the board of directors of the New England Granit Dealers association at their annual meeting on Monday at the Chamber of Commerce, Boston. A dinner followed the meeting at hotel Brunswick.

The Quincy Choral society has already held eight rehearsals and the ninth announced for Thursday evening, Jan. 21, at Colonial hall. The society continues to gain in membership, both interested and associate. The prospects of having a chorus in the near future that will compare favorably with the best in the state seems assured.

The annual meeting of the Granite National bank was held Tuesday and Wednesday evening at the bank. The prospects are that the affair will duplicate last year's success, the proceeds of which went for the improvement of the grounds about the Atlantic station.

The pictures were introduced with brief descriptions by Mr. John Arnold, whose directions they were given and by readings and songs.

Mr. Arnold related the committee as doorkeepers and the ushers were:

Mrs. Anna S. Arnold, Mrs. S. E. Ames, Mrs. C. T. Hardwick, Mrs. F. J. Peirce, Mrs. W. O. Wellington, Mrs. E. H. Jameson and Mrs. Percy Holman.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

MAKARIA BANQUET.

The fourth annual banquet of the Makaria was held Wednesday evening at Bethany church.

The attendance this year was larger than at any of the previous banquets and it was the universal opinion that this was the most successful of any.

Poetry.

OUR WORK.

We are apt to think if we only had Great wealth at our command We would do some great thing And it would be grand.

With praise for our work so grand. We imagine oftimes if we could have The chance of some we know We could far better use The chance they lose.

And success from our efforts flow.

Though our lot be cast in a humble spot.

And duty bid us stay, Yet that duty may lead To work that is grand.

The strengthening us day by day.

For we each may have our appointed work.

Though few may understand the work we do, and much Of it may not be seen.

By love have been wisely planned.

If we do our best with the means we have.

Though neither great nor grand, We are apt to think if we only had Great wealth at our command.

For we will not shrink.

The work that is nearest at hand.

Notes and Comments.

An historian says Nero was not nearly so bad as he was reported. That it what a fellow thinks of New York when he stands in the gallery of the United States Senate.

To have a bright outlook on life there must be a bright outlook. We are apt to think if we only had Great wealth at our command we would be cast on the outside. We carry our world with us. To see all things rightly there must be no blurs on the lenses of the spirit.

John J. Somes of Gloucester is one of the oldest city clerks in record. He was made clerk first in 1873 and has held the office ever since, keeping the books when Gloucester changed from town to city government and again when her new charter was adopted.

Not only is the present wealth of France estimated at $1,100 for every man, woman, and child, but there are no such great fortunes there as there are in the United States. So the distribution of wealth among the people is more nearly equal. French economy and thrift are virtues that Americans would do well to imitate.

During 1908 the incoming steerage passengers at the various ports of the United States numbered 402,000, while in 1907, 1,364,685 came in. The falling off was largely due to the business depression. In 1908 for the first time for many years the east-bound passengers were in excess of the westbound or incoming passengers.

America has now triumphed over Egypt and India in the production of cotton. The war in the Twin Falls country in the State of Idaho. The ultimate area under irrigation, when the entire Twin Falls project shall have been completed, will be 1,350,000 acres.—Washington Observer.

The war department is moving now to the Boston & Maine bridges over the Charles river rebuilt and raised above the water level, which would mean the construction of a new North station. If this change is to be made, it is a pity, says the Somerville Journal, that the station can not be located at Haymarket square, where it was proposed that it should be built some years ago, closer to the business centre.

Appearances now indicate that the new tariff bill will be reported to the House the latter part of March. Thoroughness and intelligence in the revision are the two things demanded, and they are to be expected as could be expected from a body of men so closely connected with politics. At the hearings so far held, there has been a marked attention paid to the consumer, and to his interests, and what would be the effect of revision of the present tariff. In previous tariff revisions the politicians, or rather the politicians, almost the entire of the time has been seen in this altered view of the question. It can be safely said that the next tariff bill will be framed with more regard to the general public's interests than has been previously the case.—Plymouth Memorial.

It seems to us that the Chelsea Gazette is justified in consigning the board of control of that city for allowing unsightly billboards to be erected on Broadway. After these billboards were destroyed by fire they ought to have been kept out of Chelsea forever. All of the cities and towns about Boston are disgraced by these billboards, which allow their owners to vacant land to hold on to them without improving them. We are surprised that the Chelsea board of control should allow the billboards to be replaced. That board ought to cut out politics and have the beauty and progress of the city in mind.—Malden News.

When Mr. Stokes, the wealthy Socio, reads the statements that the directors and officers of the big corporations occupy the best pews in the front rows of the churches and the preachers have to be very careful not to say anything to hurt their feelings, he is repeating a very popular conviction. There also the evil, if they were in the front rows, where the preacher could get at them, they need it and it had to be said. And Mr. Stokes does not know the ministers he is maligning. There are ministers who are as loyal to the people as all—with a few conspicuous exceptions.—It would be good that instead of evil, if they were in the front rows, where the preacher could get at them, they need it and it had to be said. And Mr. Stokes does not know the ministers he is maligning. There are ministers who are as loyal to the people as all—with a few conspicuous exceptions.—It would be good that instead of evil, if they were in the front rows, where the preacher could get at them, they need it and it had to be said. And Mr. Stokes does not know the ministers he is maligning. There are ministers who are as loyal to the people as all.—

Councilman Richards offered an order for an arc light front of the Lincoln school.

Councilman McDevitt offered an order for a light on Granite street extension.

CITY COUNCIL.

An important meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening. Several orders introduced on a motion day were passed and a number of new orders introduced. The latter included an order for $50,000 for the erection of two industrial buildings and an order fixing the pay of city laborers at $2 per day of eight hours. Orders were passed on a special debate on the passage of a bill ordering the Mayor to petition the legislature to amend the City Charter so that the Mayor shall be chairman of the School Committee. Councilman Freeman, Gilson and Russell were absent.

PETITIONS.

A petition was received from South Quincy residents to abate the smoke and spark nuisance from passing locomotives. Referred to the Executive Committee.

Councilman Bryant by request presented a petition for the acceptance of Norfolk street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

A petition was received for additional police officer at Wollaston. The petitioners want a day officer and two night officers. Referred to the Committee on Police.

A number of applications for minor licenses were received and referred to the Committee on Licenses.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Finance reported ought to pass on the following order introduced on a motion day under suspension of the rules.

Authorizing the City Treasurer to borrow $500,000 in anticipation of taxes.

Appropriating $500 for special and miscellaneous police of 1908.

Authorizing the Clerk of Council to add $2 per day of eight hours after April 1. Referred to Finance Committee.

Authorizing the Clerk of the Council to have the rules and list of Committees printed.

Authorizing the Mayor to have the annual reports printed.

The Committee on Ordinances reported that the order concerning the petition to the Mayor to petition the legislature to amend the City Charter so as to provide that the Mayor shall be chairman ex-officio of the School Committee.

Councilmen Richards and Nowland of the committee presented a minority report that the order ought not to pass.

Councilman Richards moved the substitution of the minority for the majority report.

Councilman Walsh opposed the minority report. The only objection that developed in the Committee was that other changes were being advocated and it would not well to talk to the legislature in a piecemeal way.

Councilman Abel favored the minority. This move to amend the charter was rather sudden. There should be some good reason given before we pass such an order. All agree certain changes should be made in the charter to meet the requirements of the express companies.

The meeting was adjourned until the next meeting when some of the express companies could have a representative present.

The meeting was then adjourned until Wednesday night at eight o'clock.

HOUGHS NECK ASSOCIATES.

The first meeting of the Houghs Neck Association, for the present year, was held Sunday afternoon. The meeting was a special one called by President Archie F. Baird for the purpose of appointing committees for the following business. Public landing, garbage nuisance, water at Rock Island, gas at Rock Island, express and mailing.

President Baird presided and quickly disposed of all matters. He appointed the following members on the committees, Public Landing, Henry W. French, chairman, John P. Moses, Frank Leavitt, Patrick F. O'Brien, John J. Regan, Daniel Maloney, chairman; William P. Taylor, Auditing, Patrick F. O'Brien, chairman; William P. Taylor and Addison R. Hammond.

It was voted that the association send fifty representatives to the meeting of the New England Association of City Charter Officers at Saturday night for the purpose of changing of the City Charter.

The master of a public landing at Houghs Neck was discussed by many of the members. Henry W. French said that the petition that was circulated last year and a bill was already at the state house, and that the bill had been introduced by the state engineer. He outlined the manner in which the bill must be pushed through and said that he hoped to see a public landing at the Neck by next summer. The committee was instructed in what to do.

The president called upon the committee to take care of the garbage nuisance, said, "I have talked with him now that he does not leave a stone unturned for the success of the annual ball." Mullaly's full orchestra dispensed their clearest music and the ballroom was filled with club members and invited guests that were in the vicinity.

Each lady present was presented with a snow white kid opera bag, a small bouquet of flowers, a small card and a little good fortune puff and under the bottom in a pocket an eight page, small dance order.

The matrons were: Mrs. O. Bridgeman, Mrs. L. O. Crocker, Mrs. W. E. Johnson, Mrs. F. E. Brooks, Mrs. W. O. Hastings, Mrs. Aaron Howland, Mrs. D. C. Jones, Mrs. A. Barbour.

Ushers—Eliza B. Bird, Charles A. Boyce, H. Sands Burgess, Herbert E. Curtis Horace R. Drinkwater, Chester H. Gould, Walter O. Hastings, Gordon M. Keating, Emma W. Kingsbury, Walter S. Lafavour, Frank S. Perry.

WEATHER FOR 1908.

According to weather records kept by the U. S. Weather Bureau at Pleasant Street, Milford, during the year 1908, there were 224 clear days, 276 fair days, 88 cloudy days, and 50 partly cloudy days. Rain fell on or part of 75 days and snow fell on or part of 20 days. There were 15 thunderstorms. The prevailing wind was west on 81 days. The number of days of low temperature was 101, the highest temperature was 91 degrees on the 1st, which is also the highest December temperature since 1881, while the lowest was 31 degrees on the 6th and 10th. The total precipitation of 30.1 inches was only about 65 per cent. of the average amount, and the smallest in December since 1900. Rain fell on 11 days and snow was recorded on six days, the total depth of the latter being 27 inches. Snow covered the ground from the 11th to the 21st, the greatest amount at any time being 1.5 inches on the 18th. There was less humidity and less cloudiness than usual, and the total amount of sunshine was 10 per cent. more than the average. There was less wind than usual, and the average wind velocity was 10 miles per hour.

The warmest day in the shade was July 12th, 102 degrees, in the sun, 125 degrees. The coldest day was Feb. 5th, 3 below zero. The first frost in the fall was Wednesday, September 16th. In 1907 it was Wednesday, October 1st. The first appearance of snow was Wednesday, November 4th. In 1907 it was November 13th. The coldest day for the year at 12 o'clock was Thursday, January 30th, and February 4th, 6 degrees. There were 14 snow storms.

NEW BRIDGE RECOMMENDED.

The Metropolitan Park Commission which has been considering the advisability of constructing a new bridge across the Neponset river between Atlantic and Pleasant streets, recommended a bridge to be built at the 10th street crossing.

The meeting was adjourned until the next meeting when some of the express companies could have a representative present.

FROTH TRACK TO TURF.

Exports of American horses during the six years ending June 30, 1908, were valued at $21,000,000, while imports for the same period were valued at $10,000,000. Three-fourths of the import values represented stallions and mares of established European breeds brought in from foreign countries.

SCHOOL REPORT.

The monthly report of the superintendent of schools shows the total enrollment of the public schools at the close of the year to have been 6032 with an average attendance of 5452 for the month. But one case of truancy was reported for the month.

FRENCH VS. AMERICAN ROADS.

A recent official report from Col. General R. P. Skinner of Massachusetts gives a highly important information regarding the public roads of that country. As is generally known, France has the best and most complete road system in the world, and its splendid public highways fill with envy and admiration all foreign countries. The roads in the United States, where roads in general are about the worst in any country professing to be civilized.

The superiority of the French road system is stated by Col. General Skinner to be due to the fact that the construction and maintenance of the public roads are under the supervision of a corps of experts in road-construction, who find in their profession opportunities for advancement and distinction such as could not and does not exist under a local road administration. French roads are good, not because of any superiority in the material used, but because the roads are built by a corps of experts who have had the benefit of a good education.

Thaddeus Churchill, who died at the Soldiers' Home in Colcord Monday, was a former resident of Quincy and well known among the older residents. He was born in Hingham, later moving to Quincy Point, where for many years he was engaged in the painting business.

He was prominently identified with the Hingham Light Guards and with the 10th Mass. Inf. He was a member of that company and left Quincy as its first lieutenant. He was afterward transferred to the 39th Regiment. After the war he returned to Quincy where he remained a few years and then moved to Boston, where he afterward made his home.

He married a sister of Mrs. Charles A. L. Pease, who died some years ago. He is survived by one son, Ross, who resides in Boston. The body was brought to Quincy for burial Thursday.

COMMITTEE BANQUETED.

The special committee of the Granite Cutters' International Union, who are in session at Quincy, held a dinner in honor of the union, were entertained a complimentary banquet Tuesday evening at Hibernian Hall.

The banquet was given by the three branches of the union in Quincy, namely the cutters, polishers and sharpeners. Nearly 200 were present, including Mayor Shea and William Sprague, president of the International president of the union.

The menu included turkey, cold meats, escalloped oysters, rolls, coffee, ices, ice cream and cake and fruit, and was pronounced excellent. Nicholas Williams, president of the Quincy branch, called the assembly to order and introduced James Dunnigan, Secretary-Treasurer of the International, and toasting master, Isaac Cudde of New York, secretary, Richard Grigg of Barre, Vt., John C. Walsh of Washington, Ernest Lemon of Vancouver, B. C., R. A. Brown of Concord, N. H., and James Garvey of Milford, Mass.

During the banquet there was music by an orchestra and selections by the Granite Cutters.

After the banquet an adjournment was made to the lower hall where a social hour was spent, during which there were addresses by Mayor Shea who welcomed the committee to Quincy and spoke of the peaceful relations between the workmen and employers.

Remarks were also made by members of the revision committee, who told of the object of the revision of the constitution, William Sprague, Alex Cowe, Councilman McDevitt and others.

These addresses were interspersed with selections by the quartette, songs by William Ehrick and Andrew Verle and Peter Josephine, singing by William Murphy and recitations by Councilman Alexander W. Russell.

CONCERT AT ATLANTIC.

The first concert of the season filled Atlantic Music hall to overflowing Wednesday evening, when the Westland quartet rendered a program of rare ability and pleasing effect.

The quartet was given under the direction of Mrs. William Butler and her Sunday school class who acted as ushers; the Misses Gladys Willy, Marjorie Young, Alice Waterhouse, Grace De Wolf, Carina Radcliffe, Hazel Davison, Mabel Shewsbury and Winifred Cole.

The quartet, which includes Miss May, Mrs. Charles Deelman, 1st soprano; Mrs. Emma Schufeldt Moore, 2d soprano; Miss Alice Gertrude Coe, 1st alto, and Mrs. Dorothy McTaggart Miller, 2d alto; needs no introduction to the public, for their names are already pleasingly symbolic of good music. The solo parts covered every note of the scale, and as far as one of the strong points of programme arrangement, Miss Deelman is always delightful with her brilliant rendition of difficult songs, and Mrs. Moore was also roundly encored. Mrs. Miller, who is exceedingly clever in character songs, was called back three times by the audience.

Misses Willy and Young, who is an Atlantic young woman, was given a splendid ovation by her many friends present, who also always listen to her singing with sincere pleasure.

The quartet parts were chosen from classical music down to the sweet and gay melodies and the songs of the negro minstrels.

Many were present from Quincy, Wollaston and Dorchester and the long list of patrons included: Mrs. James E. Curtin, Mrs. Edward A. Burkhardt, Mrs. Frank M. Coe, George Riddle, Mrs. Frank C. Tracy, Mrs. Ward W. Fletcher, Mrs. Charles A. Hendon, Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mrs. Charles L. Cope, Mrs. Joseph H. Anderson, Mrs. Ralph A. Hobbs, Mrs. Frank Bowman, Mrs. Frederic J. Pierce, Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. Daniel A. Bruce, Mrs. B. A. Thurber, Mrs. H. H. Read, Mrs. Alford Jelton, Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Mrs. Henry Von Enden, Mrs. William Cummings, Mrs. George Hight, Mrs. George Hight, Jr., Mrs. George W. Sherwin, Mrs. Charles A. Hall, Mrs. Cecil Marple, Mrs. Charles Cuerington, Mrs. Thomas De Wolf, Mrs. Daniel Charles Cope, Mrs. John Don Gurnett, Mrs. Richard Baker, Mrs. Edwin Wylie, Miss Annie Clean, Mrs. Sarah C. Butler, Mrs. Charles A. Stecher and Mrs. Eben Stocker.

The concert was given for the Memorial Congregational church and the proceeds will be used for church needs and improvements.

POLICE BALL.

Upwards of 400 couples were in attendance at the third annual ball of the Quincy Police Relief Association Jan. 22d and the affair was a grand success in every way.

Three years ago on the occasion of the Association's first event the weather had turned on a hard storm. A year ago another storm was dealt out. This year a mild pleasant night was greeted by the bluecats.

Although it was stormy the first two years the attendance was large, but nothing in size when compared to the attendance last year. People arrived at Music Hall at 8 o'clock so as to get seats in the balcony from which to watch the gay scene, found others before them and every seat taken. A double row of seats was then placed around the sides and ends of the hall and these were soon filled.

Still the guest continued to arrive and at 9 o'clock when the grand march started they stood eager and ten deep about the entrance.

The reception committee included Lieut Daniel R. McKay, Sergt. Mark E. Hanlon, Patrick A. McIlford, George S. Cahill, Jeremiah Hinshaw, William S. Lyons and they were particularly active in looking after the pleasure and comfort of the dancers.

Among the invited guests noticed were Mayor William T. Sheehan, President Ralph W. Hobbs of the City Council, Dr. John C. Bell, chairman of the standing committee on Police, Councilmen James M. Flaherty and John R. Richards, Chief Engineer Peter J. Williams, Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker, Overseer of the Poor James H. Elcock, City Messenger Harry W. Tirk, Auditor of the Assessors department, Captains of Police, Joseph W. Hayden, Walter H. Kipley and Amos L. Litchfield.

Other guests noticed were: John P. Churchill, clerk of the district court and George E. Adams, assistant clerk and Archie Baird, president of the Houghs Neck Associates.

The officers installed were: P. M. W.—Lewis Fleishman, Foreman—J. C. Cahill, Overseer—C. W. Ward, Treasurer—B. Smith, Financier—Charles Kolstead, Guide—George Smith.

W. W.—S. H. Edwards, Trustee—Charles M. Nelson, Representative to grand lodge—Lewis Fleishman.

The Merry Widow cottage at Houghs Neck was the scene of a $200 blarney Friday. Merry widows are great hands to burn up money, says the Brockton Enterprise. How about Merry Widowers?

That all ships should be fitted with a wireless telegraph outfit was demonstrated Saturday when the steamer Republic was wrecked off No Mans Land. If it had not been for the wireless outfit on the Republic none of the vessels with the exception of the Florida would have been of the aid. The Florida would have been of the aid and several passengers might have been drowned as the Florida was not equipped with the wireless service. A law should be passed compelling all passenger vessels to carry the wireless outfit than the danger of fatal wrecks would be reduced to a minimum.

According to the report of the legislative committee on legal affairs, there will be no legal holiday in Massachusetts in honor of the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth.

The governor and legislators have received letters from parts of the state and from them the school teachers, stating that the making of the day a legal holiday would interfere with the exercises planned and also that the best and most fruitful way to celebrate the day was in the schoolroom. There is a good deal of sense in this, too, and it had great weight with those at the State house. However, as legislation was sought for this year it may seem that the holiday might have been granted.

and yachtsmen coming and going would necessitate constant repairs by the city, causing much extra expense. It is expedient for the city to go to this expense is a question which can not be answered at the present time.

The order now before the Council asking the City to build one or two factory buildings costing $50,000, more or less, to be leased under certain restrictions to any concern which wishes to utilize them for manufacturing purposes will hardly stand against the consolidation of the New Haven railroad with the electric roads in Berkshires county, but favoring the consolidation of the Bennington and North Adams street railway company with the Berkshire street railway company. The Berkshires people are strongly in favor of New Haven ownership of trackage in that part of the state, and they are clearly preparing to oppose the position of the railroad commissioners.

Under the first class comes, without doubt, the statement of the railroad commissioners, replying to the order of the last legal session, that the proposed one, taking into account the consolidation of the New Haven railroad with the electric roads in Berkshires county, is the best government buildings is the best government buildings in the state as far as construction and location are concerned.

The building, which is of granite, has a frontage of about 87 feet on Washington street and 65 feet on Maple street. The main entrance is on the Washington street front through large revolving glass doors. There is also an entrance on Maple street, the corner of Washington street which is also fitted with revolving glass doors.

Both of these entrances lead into a wide corridor extending along the whole front of the building. This corridor is finished in very handsome green veined Vermont marble.

William J. Cunningham of Newton addressed the club on "system methods applied to railroad building."

Mr. Cunningham is statistician of the operating department of the Boston and Albany railroad and also lecturer on railroad operations before the Harvard Club.

The use of what Mr. Cunningham called "graphic charts" together with his pleasing address and clear method of reasoning combined to turn the usually dry subject of statistics into one of the most interesting meetings the club has had this season.

In the absence of the President C. J. Hogue who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, Mr. N. R. Hoover, the secretary of the club presided.

It is not a far cry, said Mr. Cunningham, to the time when the general manager was the whole thing and ran his road from observation, having little or no use for statistics besides the fact that he had made or lost so much.

As small roads were consolidated, however, and one system came into existence and the roads in the state divided into districts the amount of property controlled became so vast that management simply by observation would not suffice and this is where the work of a statistician comes in.

As the historian can sometimes look forward with a clearer view than the members of the House of Representatives can have of the roads, it is the statistician who can have a clear view of the present and the problem of how to deal with it will be materially modified if the legislature finds that it must take the railroad into its own hands.

In the meantime, in the Senate, on the order of Senator Parker of Suffolk, there has been adopted, also, a resolution to an amendment to the bill.

Whether the Boston and Maine railroad holding stock in the Boston and Maine railroad company, or any other railroad holding stock in foreign corporations, has presumably forfeited its charter by reason of violation of our laws. On May 8, 1908, the company was holding illegally. The order says that the railroad company shall give the information forthwith.

FATALLY BURNED.

Frances Louise, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Coffin, was burned Monday at her home, 120 Quincy avenue.

The father, who is employed at the Fore River Shipbuilding plant, left home to search for his wife.

About 8 o'clock Mrs. Coffin started out to do an errand, leaving her 5-year-old daughter alone in the kitchen.

Shortly after Mrs. Coffin, who lives in the other side of the house, detected a strong odor of smoke and thinking something was wrong, ran around to the kitchen to see what was the trouble.

As she entered the house, she was surprised to see the little girl on the kitchen floor enveloped in flames.

Uttering a piercing scream she grabbed a blanket and wrapping it about the child rushed out doors with Poetry.

AS USUAL.

The troubles you've had, though they're big to you, Are small as this old paper views them. The world is full of things we purvey, But with smile it sees us lose them! Your heart is weary and sick and sore, And you cannot sleep, though forever, But in the quiet of night it is before And the sky is as blue as ever. The old world laughs at your pretty strife, Our boasting and desperation: It smiles at the woes of a humble life As though it were a common notion. Despite ambition that goes astray, And despite fate's grim beguiling, The sun keeps shining from day to day, And the sky is serenely smiling! —Washington Star.

Notes and Comments.

—The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, will be closed to the public on May 1, preparatory to moving into the new building on Huntington avenue.

—London and Boston seem to have changed places as to weather this winter. Across the water comes the announcement of zero weather and snow.

—Don't fall off a car says the Brockton Times, purposely and then seek money from the company. It is evidently a dangerous way of making money—something like working in a powder mill.

—The chances are that after science has solved tuberculosis will have a tremendous task upon its hands in reforming the man who objects to ventilation.

—Good news for married women: A Chicago judge has ruled that a weddin' ring, and little articles of jewelry of sentimental value are not subject to attachment for debt.

—A few crumbs thrown out on the snow this winter will do much to preserve the foliage of the trees next summer. The snow birds are great insect eaters, but in this climate they must be encouraged or they will fly to other places.

—It is announced that a hundred Chinese students will be sent to study in the United States, as a mark of China's gratitude for the remission of a part of the Boxer indemnity. All these students are to be young men if China is to be fully repaid to American ideals, part of them would be young women.

—A fitting observance of the centenary of the birth of Mendelssohn will be held on the evening of Feb. 3 in Temple Israel, Boston. The entertainment program will be the works of Mendelssohn and the choir will be assisted by the Boston Singers, Wood, Mrs. Barbara Cushing Child, Bruce Hobbs, W. B. Phillips and an orchestra from the Boston Symphony orchestra.

—Brookline seems to be as desirable a place for town officials for the inhabitants. The tax collector's work is now over, the Brookline Chronicle on investigation finds that for the last ten years the majority of the taxes have been paid by the evening of November 2, and from 70 to 75 per cent. have been paid by the evening of the tenth of November.

—Kansas promises to make things interesting for "affinities" says the Old Colony Times, while its recent legislation which provides jail sentences for those who indulge in this form of recreation. Coupled with this law is one demanding more information from those about to be married, which undoubtedly is to be sure that other states could adopt a good advantage.

—The New York street cleaning department advertised for 10,000 men to shovel snow for 25 cents an hour, and succeeded in securing the services of less than half that number. And yet we doubt not the "bread line" was as large as ever this particular day. The "bread line" is a rule of no want work, but want to get supported for nothing. Brother Powderly, who is one of the best friends of labor, testified to that after a very thorough investigation—Gloucester Times.

—Wouldn't Quincy be surprised to receive a gift like the following to Buffalo? Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Hutchinson, have offered the city their homestead, centrally located, as a site for a new central high school, together with $200,000 in cash. Both the donors are graduates of the present central high school and their regard for the public matter deserves expression in this manner. It is natural to say that Buffalo will accept the munificent gift.

—This report that there are five other large shoe manufacturers of Brockton who are contemplating leaving that city soon to follow the example of Wm. Doane, the only illustration of the deep dissatisfaction which prevails in that city at the domination of the Labor Union in the trade. Anyone who talks with the manufacturers knows how intolerable the conditions have become and that this must be the consequence. The game of "killing the goose that lays the golden egg" may be rare and exciting sport but when golden eggs become scarce in consequence the result is the same. The whole community just as hard as it does the ones that played the game—Stoughton Sentinel.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The Art club met Monday evening with Miss Alice Coe of Billings street. Its members are all ardent students and the meetings are full of literary interest.

The "Tea Cups" of Wollaston met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Frank A. Page of Winthrop avenue and enjoyed the usual happy routine of serving, reading and small chat.

Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution held their February meeting on the first day of the month, meeting Monday afternoon, at quarter of three at the home of Miss Alice Coe.

The committee for the afternoon is Miss Prescott, Mrs. Frank F. Prescott and Mrs. Francis Guild Mayo. The March meeting will be the annual with the election officers and routine business.

Dr. Charles S. Adams is to be the speaker at the meeting of the Child Nurture club, which meets Feb. 1 at 2:30 P. M. with Mrs. E. D. Gannett, 12 Marion street. It is hoped that all the members will be present with friends to hear Dr. Adams' paper on "Embrionic Life."

Mrs. Laurence H. Sturtevant of Adams street is hostess for the February first meeting of the Junior Friday club and Mrs. Jessie I. Litchfield has the program in charge.

LITERARY NOTES.

It is interesting to note that the Shakespeare society of Atlantic has now given its appreciation of the Library Art Club exhibit this month at the Thomas Crane Public Library by coming in a body yesterday afternoon to see the pictures. There are 24 large prints from Boydell illustrations of Shakespeare, and will remain at the library until the 13th instant.

John Boydell, an English engraver and publisher, made an extensive plan for the illustration of Shakespeare with engravings from pictures painted by the most famous English artists. Thirty-four painters and thirty-three engravers were engaged in the work begun in 1785 and finished in 1804 and each was given his own time and place. The enormous cost involved Boydell in bankruptcy but the works were completed and published at a price of $1,000 per copy for the first 300 impressions.

In 1848 an American purchased the worn copper plates for $50,000, had them re-cut, and these prints are examples of the edition issued from them. The original paintings were destroyed and only one, Benjamin West's King Lear, now in the Boston Art Museum, has ever come to America.

On the bulletin board may be seen a few prints from steel plates of pictures and cartoons of Abraham Lincoln. The cartoons of that day were coarse and crude and are of value from a historical point of view.

One of these two shows the opponents of anti-slavery and the other the iniquity of the visitors in the presidential campaign of 1860, representing Lincoln as the successful base ball player.

Three new books have been added to the Lincoln literature since the printing of the list of those already in the library. These are the following:

Reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln by distinguished men of his time, edited by Allen T. Rice (Shef. No. 415.101); Lincoln and the sleeping sentinel, by L. E. Chittenden (415.102); and The memory of Lincoln; a collection of poems, edited by M. A. DeWee Howe (513.54).

CHRIST CHURCH MEN'S CLUB.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Men's club of Christ's church was held Monday evening.

The club was very fortunate in securing W. E. Hington for the speaker of the evening, his subject being "Forgeries and False Entries."

Mr. Hington is an expert on hand writing and was quite a prominent figure in the Tucker trial a few years ago.

Mr. Hington has traveled the length and breadth of the country many times, tracing and convicting many of the country's greatest embezzlers. In his years of experience he has come in contact with many characteristics of human nature. His fine display of various differences, between one being and another, in the unconscious and uncontrolled movements in hand-writing, as he illustrated, one after another, on the blackboard, was a pleasure that one receives only once in a lifetime. Many an unfaithful secret was laid bare before his audience. Though his topic was very entertaining, his chief message to his hearers was, "never make a false entry of any kind, for the interest of it. You will pay every hour, though you rectify it, its memory will haunt you until you shake off these mortal coils."

There were a large number of the club members present intermingled with several guests.

A short entertainment followed the address of Mr. Hington, during which the club caterer, H. F. Purnell served refreshments.

PLAYGROUNDS AND GRAND JURY.

mention has been made of the act of the Massachusetts Legislature providing for public playgrounds in cities and towns, and it has been pointed out that the example thereof is in fact, in that

Massachusetts is the only State that has yet seriously taken up this matter. Elsewhere whatever progress has been made is due to purely local action.

In Pennsylvania, for instance, no headway has been made, beyond securing here and there the use of school grounds for public recreation purposes at certain stated times.

At the grand jury, a special committee of the grand jury has made the departure singular enough for such a character, of recommending the adoption of a general playground system for the entire city. The grand jury accounts for its taking the initiative by the explanation that playgrounds are essential for the prevention of crime among the young. The truth of the matter is, however, that the grand jury has been established by practical experience, especially in European cities where juvenile crime is found to be materially abated under the good influence of the playground system.

At the meeting of the Quincy L. T. L. Thursday afternoon it was unanimously voted to add the name Faxon, beloved by temperance boys and girls, so hereafter the Legion will be known as the Faxon Loyal Temperance Legion of Quincy.

The Q. P. C. A. held a dancing party on Thursday evening in Electa hall, Johnson building. Thompson's orchestra furnished dance music for the large crowd that attended and dancing was in order from 8 till 12. During the evening there were solos by Francis Sweeney, Miss Marion Wright and others.

Henry P. Dowst of Greenleaf street, recently junior partner of Ellis & Dowst, has gone back to his former position with the H. B. Humphrey Co., advertising agents of Boston. Mr. Dowst entered the Humphrey agency soon after graduating from Harvard, later entering into partnership with Ellis & Dowst.

Rev. J. C. Powell of the Crowley fathers of St. John's, Boston, addressed the members of the Christ church altar guild Monday afternoon in Christ church. It was the eve of the Purification and Rev. Powell took the feast of the Purification for his subject. His talk was very interesting and instructive. The services were opened and closed with singing.

The committee on street railways reported in the House unanimously Tuesday afternoon a bill to authorize the Old Colony street railway company to extend its service into the grounds of the Fore River Shipbuilding company, with the consent of the latter company which is thereby authorized to be given, and to operate its cars over head electric trolley system of motive power.

The Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, are to present the musical comedy "The Mikado" after Lent. The play will be presented under the personal direction of Daniel E. Bowen of the Boston Dramatic society. Edward P. Histen, who has so successfully managed the Quincy Point Social minstrel show, is chairman of the committee, and the best talent will be procured.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. O'Donnell and their thirteenth wedding anniversary Thursday evening by entertaining a number of their neighbors and friends at their home on Glendale road. The evening was passed in a pleasant manner with games and music. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell were presented with a cut glass punch bowl and a spoon tray. Miss Elsie Martin made the presentation speech.

The social calendar for February is pretty well filled up with pre-lenten festivities, the largest being the Valentine dance at the Music Associates club, which will be held on the twenty-third of the month by the Quincey Women's club.

It was voted to hold whist parties and dances to raise funds for the new auxiliary. The dues of the new auxiliary are fifty cents a year.

The committee that was delegated by the Associates reported to the ladies that the Associates would give the ladies a supper on February 22.

The object of the new auxiliary will be to help the Associates raise money for a permanent hall, and to bring in new members of the work together in a social way. Any lady 18 or over eligible to membership. The new organization starts with a membership of fifty and promises to increase very rapidly.

HOUGHS NECK AUXILIARY.

If actions amount to anything, the auxiliary to the Houghs Neck Associates that was organized by the ladies Wednesday night at the Associates clubhouse, will certainly accomplish a great deal. Over fifty of the women of the Neck were present in an answer to call for members.

A committee of the Houghs Neck Associates was present and assisted the ladies to organize and elect officers. The following officers were elected, Mrs. Neil J. Regan, president, Mrs. George McEwan, first vice president, Mrs. Clara Catarus, treasurer, and Mrs. Edna Catarus, secretary.

After the officers were elected the chair appointed the organist for the association, the organist being the Valentine dance at the Music

Associates clubhouse, which was held on the twenty-third of the month by the Quincey Women's club.

TO-DAY.

Harriet Prescott Spofford.

Upon John Ruskin's writing desk
A slab of chalcedony lay,
And on it, cut in careful script,
The words "To-day."
Household, an enormous man,
And had a prophet in his way,
He let "To-morrow" bite its time,
And used "Today."

Upon the tablet of the wise
How good to write, the self-same way,
Putting tomorrow's uses by,
The word "To-day."

Notes and Comments.

—Some one has said that good resolutions are now marked down to make room for spring goods.

—A German airship company advertises that it will soon be able to handle passengers and light freight between 27 cities.

—A bill has been introduced in the legislature giving each city and town power to regulate the observance of the Lord's day within its own limits.

—The Manchester garage which was burned with thirty automobiles was set on fire by the dropping of an electric light globe on the front of a machine, which ignited some gasoline upon the floor. Electric electric lights don't make a garage safe.

—In the matter of the purchase of an automobile, says the Scientific American, the questions to be considered are the weight and the horsepower. Other things being equal, a motor car should average less than one-half the weight per horsepower, and it follows that the lighter the weight of the car, when materials are not sacrificed in its construction, the greater will be the economy in fuel and tires.

—Says the Galveston News: The American battleship fleet began the long voyage home from Manila via the Suez canal, went across to the east, which proves conclusively that the world is round. If there are left in this country any instructors in geography who are still "teaching er flat" the feet of the fleet ought to convince them of their error and get them into line with the majority.

PETITIONS.

A petition was received from the School Committee inclosing a budget for 1909. The amounts asked for were:

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council was in a debatable mood Monday night and as a result there was flows of oratory such as had seldom been heard. Everything that could be uttered was said, some of the debaters were red hot. This was especially true during the debate on the order that city laborers be paid $2 a day for eight hours.

President Hobbs had to have a hard time on the granite block to preserve order. One of these blows of the gavel knocked a hole in it. Outside of the debate there was but little business transacted. Councilman Cherrington, Nowland and Whalen were absent.

TRANSFER WANTED.

A communication was received from the Mayor with inclosure from the Chief Engineer asking for a transfer of $312.72 from the appropriation for "Repairs" to the appropriations for fire alarm, horse shoeing and keeping and miscellaneous. Laid on the table until later when an order was passed making the transfer.

DAMAGES WANTED.

A communication was received from the Mayor inclosing claims of heirs of Jeremiah Sheahan for damages by change of grade on Grove street. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from Paul Revere Post 88 G. A. R. asking for the use of City Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 12 for a Lincoln oration. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Gilson offered the necessary order which was adopted.

MORE APPOINTMENTS.

A communication was received from the Mayor announcing the following appointments.

Trustee of Thomas Crane Public Library, Ellery C. Butler, Harrison A. Keith, George W. Morton, Henry McGrath, Charles R. Safford, George F. Sawyer, Jr.

Managers of Adams Academy, William Everett, Luther S. Anderson, George M. Sheahan, Walter S. Pinkham, Perry Lawton, Frederick J. Peirce.

Managers of Public Burial Places, Albert W. Fay, John Q. Cudworth, Alfred W. Black, Joseph H. Vogel, Otto Gelehrter.

Park Commissioners, Dexter E. Wadsworth, Charles C. Gill, Thomas F. Mannix.

Placed on file.

A communication was received from the School Committee calling attention to the need of additional school accommodations. Referred to Committee of Public Buildings.

SCHOOL BUDGET.

From School Committee inclosing budget or 1909. The amounts asked for were:

Salaries, $114,450.00
Janitors, 9,175.00
Books, Etc. 10,500.00
Fuel, 7,000.00
Transportation, 1,475.00
Rent, 390.00
Evening schools, 1,500.00

$144,460.00

Referred to Finance Committee.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing Alfred N. Labrecque a constable. Confirmed.

CITY COUNCIL.

A petition was received from the N. E. T. & T. Co., asking for a location for poles on Cross Street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

A petition was received from the Citizens' Gas Light Co. for permission to lay mains. Referred to Committee of Streets.

A petition was received that the Old Colony street railway run hourly cars between Quincy and Neponset between 12:20 and 5:40 A. M. Laid on the table.

CITY COUNCIL.

A petition was received from the Telephone Company for attachments to Goddard street. Councilman Bryant moved to lay on the table. Laid on the table.

A public hearing was held at 7:45 on petition of the Electric Light Co. for a location for poles on Huntington St. Sup't. Austin appeared in favor.

Councilman Moir asked if these poles were already in, to which Mr. Austin replied yes on permission given by the Commissioner.

The hearing was then continued until 8:20 when the Commissioner might get the date, permission to place poles was given.

At that hour the Commissioner said that the order had been given Nov. 11.

Mayor Shea said the Council passed orders for lights and he had granted the same to the Commissioner in this instance. Dr. Vernon is a young and perhaps typical representative of the new orthodox Christianity. It is interesting to notice how a clergyman, without actually stamping himself as a religious liberal, can align himself with old time tendencies without professedly discarding his insecularities and fictions.

So serious is becoming the question of the safety of railroads, that the Santa Fe system recently sent its manager of the timber and steel department on a tour to the Orient and Europe, to make a study of conditions.

It was learned, among other things, that three hundred years ago the Japanese government began to conserve its forests, and that as a result of its foresight there is now a settled and thrived in the country of Mexico. There is a duty of twenty per cent on each imported into the United States. That we should be paying a twenty per cent duty on the is one among many constantly accumulating evidences of the thoughtless extravagance with which our magnificent timber has been ruthlessly swept away—Scenes American.

—If there is anything in suggestion, and we know there is, then the account of crime, displayed as they are, in our newspapers, must increase the number of criminals. One indication of this fact is the way in which crimes of specific and peculiar kinds "have a run" for a time and then cease.—Christian Register.

—"I suppose you have read Shakespeare's works?" said the young man from the East. "Yes, all of them," replied Miss Fitz of St. Louis; "that is, unless he has written something within the past year."

—Of the innumerable host of germs the great majority are useful and even necessary to the support of vegetable and animal life. A few only are injurious. The study and conquest of these injurious germs have brought more benefit to the human race than any other studies and discoveries in medical science of any kind.—Exchange.

In reply to the question the Chief said

GET INSIDE.

Your Friends and Neighbors in Quincy Will Show You How.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure.

Backache comes from the inside of the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is Quincy proof that this is so:

Mrs. Fred Curtis, living at 18 Quarry street, Quincy, Mass., says:

"Doan's Kidney Pills have been used with such satisfactory results in my family that I feel it my duty to publicly recommend them. My husband was in pretty bad shape as the result of backache. He tried plaster and used several remedies, but was not able to get relief, but did not succeed until he began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which he purchased at the Cox Drug Store. This remedy cured him in a short time and he is now feeling better than for years. I have also used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to be an excellent remedy for regulating the action of the kidneys, secretions and toning up the entire system."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The death of Abraham Lincoln, April fifteenth, 1865, is still fresh in the mind of the old soldiers, many of whom might be able to relate some incident connected therewith that would be more interesting to you than any that I could tell. I did not participate in as many battles as some of the others, I was ever mindful of my obligations to the cause for which I had enlisted. I well remember the night of his assassination. I was on guard on one of the four corners of the street in Kingston, N. C. It was the most beautiful moonlight night I witnessed during my service, still as death. The incansing roar of the dogs that could be heard from every direction, I remarked to another guard, as he approached the end of his beat at the opposite corner, that some sad calamity had befallen the country, either the loss of some great battle, or the death of some great man, which of the two I did not know. When we learned from guard the following morning, we learned that a message had been received at headquarters giving the sad news of the assassination of our beloved President, Abraham Lincoln.

Had you been there at the time and seen the look of sadness depicted on the countenances of the soldiers, no doubt your eyes would have evidenced the loss to the nation of this great and good man. It was well for our land to end, for it could not act kindly in the cause of migration in the hearts of the soldiers as to leave the embers smouldering still.

He will always be remembered as the friend of the soldier by every veteran of the civil war until they, too, shall have passed to the other shore.

Abraham Lincoln turned the tide of Southern rebellion, for which they tried.

The right of secession to them denied. And brought peace to the nation they are dead. J. H. White, 32 Madison street, Somerville, Mass.

MRS. F. RAMON BURKE.

It is with sadness that we chronicle the passing out from this world on Tuesday evening of a bright young soul.

Miss F. Ramon Burke, beloved wife of Dr. Stearke and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Reed of Adams street. After a brave struggle, many days very ill, others more hopefully especially the last few days she passed quietly away, leaving a little babe to be the comfort of her husband and a husband who for a brief time and a husband who died.

She was a true companion and home brightened by her presence. To the husband, the parents, especially to the invalid mother, much sympathy goes out from many friends.

"I shall not say, and I will not say,

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, She has wandered on to a better world.

Leaving how very fair.

It needs must be she lingers there. And you, oh you! the wisest yearn For the old-time step and glad return.

With a smile, as she did.

In the life of there as of here, Think of her still as the same, I say; She is not dead—she is just away."

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The eleventh anniversary memorial service by the Spanish War Veterans' district council of greater Boston will be held in Fenway hall, Boston on Sunday.

The order of exercises includes addresses by Hon. Joseph A. Walker, speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives; Major Hibbard, Commander-in-Chief Charles W. Weston, John L. Parker, Senior Vice-Admiral, G. A. R. Edward J. Gilson, Post Commander, U. S. V. C. Conradi, Richard Rowles and Hon. John E. Beck.

The opening prayer and benediction will be made by Rev. W. F. Dusseault, Chaplin, Dept. of Mass.

Miss Fabel Fisk Barstow will be the soloist and Mr. Guy Scyther cornetist, and Calderwood's band will also furnish music.

SHAKESPEARE NIGHT.

It was Shakespeare night at the Pickwick club Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. A. Alden of Chestnut street was hostess. An outline of "As You Like It" was first given by Mrs. Alden, followed by two scenes from the same play, in which the following took part: Rosalind, Miss Fay; Celia, Miss Stegmaier; Orlando, Mr. Hall; Touchstone, Mr. Hardwick; and Jaques, Mr. Loring. After a few words of introduction, the curtain fell.

The opening prayer and benediction will be made by Rev. W. F. Dusseault, Chaplin, Dept. of Mass.

Miss Fabel Fisk Barstow will be the soloist and Mr. Guy Scyther cornetist, and Calderwood's band will also furnish music.

NORFOLK SUPERIOR COURT.

At the superior court at Dedham Thursday in the case of John Doyle vs. the Boston Quarries Company of Quincy, an agreement was reached whereby the defendant is to pay the full amount under the Employees Liability Act, namely $4,000.

Doyle sued to recover $15,000 for damages for personal injuries received Feb. 21, 1907, by a defect in the lighting upon him at the Hitchcock quarry, and Cardinal Waysey by Mr. Badger. Mrs. Marsh then introduced two scenes from "The Two Gentlemen of Verona," with Miss Hubbard as Julia, and Mrs. Gurney as Lucetta. Plans for the annual theater party of the club and for the open meeting were discussed, after which dainty refreshments were served.

W. C. T. U. TO OVER TROLLEY.

Fred W. Corcoran, aged about 27 years and employed on Hodgkinson's farm at Germantown, was run over by an electric car shortly after midnight Wednesday and had his right foot cut off above the ankle.

The accident occurred near the corner of Sea and Palmer streets and the car, in charge of Conductor Dunham and motorman Abbott, left City Square at midnight for Houghs Neck. On the return trip the car came to a stop at the corner of Palmer street. This is a dangerous crossing and the rules require all cars to stop at least once.

There is an light at this corner but it is reported that the light was not burning at the time.

Just as motorman Abbott started his car, Corcoran came out from some bushes near the track and stepped directly in front of the car.

The car was so quickly that the car could not be stopped and both wheels passed over Corcoran's right leg, cutting off the foot so that it hung by only a thread of flesh.

The police ambulance was telephoned for and the man was removed to the City Hospital, where the foot was amputated.

Corcoran is a character in his way and is well known to the night owl of the city. He frequently comes from Boston on a late train and invariably visits a restaurant for the temperature cause.

At 7:30 the annual report that followed the supper there was brief remarks by Rev. Dr. Edwin N. Hardy, Rev. Dr. Weddel, the evangelist, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Briggs, the evangelist singers and by Mrs. Farley of Waltham the new state secretary.

Music department was furnished by the part of Unity circle.

At 7:30 the same the reading of the annual reports of the officers were made. All of these reports were most gratifying showing the circle to be in an excellent condition financially as well as in point of numbers.

The report also showed that the work of charity as ascertained on the circle was wide spread and not confined to any particular sect of credit but was dispensed where it was most needed.

That during the year several hundred doors had been expended in charitable work.

Some ten or more new members were received the reception to the new members being given by Miss Brokenshire of Milton.

The Quincy Choral society has issued a most attractive circular this week giving full details of the first annual concert which will be at Music hall on Tuesday, March 9. A sale of subscription tickets is announced, these being for sale by members of the chorus, the executive board, and the principal officers of the centre. These subscription tickets are to be exchanged at C. C. Hearn's for reserved seat tickets before the direct sale of seats there on Feb. 24th. This place gives all who are willing to purchase tickets now, the advantage of an early choice of seats.

Poetry.

AMERICA MOURNING LINCOLN.

Dorothy King.

'Tis one hundred passing years,
Since my son was born to me,
In that hour of hopes and fears,
Hour of birth and death,
Had I known the shadow then
When around my neck he hung
(Shadow cast by endless pain)
Close in my mire and death.
Sleeping, he died and left me,
When his fatigued strength he tried,
Now, the last thing he might crave
Would grant with arms stretched wide,
How I grieved in my son,
Watched him with a man's strength,
Watching him with a world looked on Making him at length.
Numberless the sons I've borne,
Myriads of them have been black;
Sacred of all that is mortal,
Would bring him back.
Thus for me to see him die,
To mutely stand while looking on,
And list the last faint fluttering sigh
Of my brave, my martyred son.
Many a son I've lost,
But for me to fresh the grief
Even years, a grovelling lot,
Bring my crushed heart no relief,
And leave him his bed.
Where the young and gay swing,
Hesitate still, hanging a year
His own Nation's sorrow.
Sorrow, awe, and love and pride
Time leaps high upon his grave,
Brings to him, who self denied,
That his brethren might save.
O my son, you are gone,
For my love, my martyred son,
Through all ages will be borne
My great grief as years move on.

—Although there is much said and written of the return to nature and the call of the country and the wild, the people after all are collecting more numbers than ever into the cities.—Chicago Tribune.

—The Scientific American has an interesting article in its Feb. 6th issue by Edward C. Sherman, on the improvements of the Charles River at Boston. Pictures are given of the proposed improvements, but of the Charles river dam and basin being particularly attractive.

—A man who could not live with his wife tried to live peacefully with another woman. Falling in love, he declared that a man who can't live with a woman he loves, is not a man, isn't it? To live with him, and, himself, to a clothes-peg. This occurred in Newark, N. J.

—After reading what the Finance Commission has to say of Boston, there is reason to believe that the revival of religion which some good people are trying to accomplish would be the best thing that could happen to that city.—New Bedford Standard.

—At last it has been settled that Napoleon the Great was not so short as has been commonly supposed. When he lay dead at St. Helena he measured five feet two inches, four lines, French standard, which in our measurements means five feet, six inches and four tenths of an inch.

—It is not uncommon for a Japanese girl to bear the name of a flower. On the other hand, however, many girls in Japan bear the names of some domestic utensil, as frying-pans or dust-brush. Doubtless this results from the custom of naming a child from the object that strikes the eye after the little one has come into the world.

—Bananas are, as a rule, planted out systematically in rows, the "suckers" being placed at an average of 10 feet apart. The banana plant bears only one flower spike, which is a quick grower, yielding its fruit in 12 to 14 months. When the plant is about six months old a second "sucker" or shoot, is allowed to spring from the root, a third after the ninth month, and so on, so that after the first year there is a continuous crop being reaped.

—The bill in congress to compel the extension of wireless telegraphy on sea is a good example of striking while the iron is hot. Steamships carrying over 50 passengers and traveling a route 500 miles or more long must carry the outfit, and all foreign ships will be denied admission to American ports. The bill will be introduced to effect of this legislation will be to unify the systems in use, so that they will be of greater value in case of emergency.—Old Colony Memorial.

—Mrs. Ann Anthony, housekeeper at the Putman house in South Norwalk, Conn., lately adjusted the stable horses and turned the carriage horses to her home and put out a fire before the department arrived. Her little son ran into the fire house and told her that their home was on fire. Just then the fire bell rang. The horses came out and took their places, but there was no one to harness and drive them, the drivers having stepped off. Mrs. Anthony had seen the men do it many times, and she was equal to the emergency.

QUINCY CHORAL SOCIETY.

REV. CARL G. HORST.

The members of the executive board are giving much thought to the matter of establishing the Quincy Choral Society, a work of great importance, believing that this method alone will insure a long and active life to the organization. As a means to this end they have solicited the aid of quantrors and intend to secure the names of fifty or more people who will support the society in any financial help it may need.

After the preliminary service of prayer and praise, Mr. Horst spoke a few words of kindly greeting, and gave as the text for his sermon the fifty-first verse of the second chapter of the first book of Maccabees, "Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their time; so shall ye receive great honor and an everlasting life."

He said it was fitting that we should at this time "call to remembrance" a few of the traits which made Abraham Lincoln the great man that he was, and the strength of his character.

The question asked by the deacon boy set Mr. Speers thinking and decided that it would be a fine idea to teach his two oldest children the trade so that they would all be prepared to earn their living when old enough.

The deacon boy set Mr. Speers thinking and decided that it would be a fine idea to teach his two oldest children the trade so that they would all be prepared to earn their living when old enough.

He spoke of the ancestry of Lincoln emphasizing the fact that his early biographers liked to dwell upon his humble origin as reflecting so much more credit upon the man, that so great a man had sprung from so lowly a stock.

He pointed out that later biographers had developed the fact that Lincoln had come of an illustrious ancestry, that in early days in England there had been many a Lincoln who had suffered persecution for what he believed in, and that he had been a member of the Moravian Society.

He said it was fitting that we should at this time "call to remembrance" a few of the traits which made Abraham Lincoln the great man that he was, and the strength of his character.

FIRST AID CLASSES.

Over three hundred young men were drowned in this country last year. Most of these were due to a few minutes in the water and could have been revived by the prompt application of the proper treatment. Many lives were thus lost because no one knew what to do and a physician could not be found in time.

It is a splendid thing to be prepared for sudden emergencies, but such preparation cannot come without study. Two classes, one for young men, one for boys under expert teachers are being instructed in "First Aid to the Injured" at the Y. M. C. A. The young men's class meets every Tuesday evening 7 to 8 P. M. These classes are open to those who are not members of the Association.

VALENTINE SUPPER.

The annual valentine supper given by the St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church was held on Monday evening at the parish house. Over 100 were present and a very pleasant evening was spent. The supper was served at 6:30 P. M. and the dancing began at 7:30 P. M.

These classes are open to those who are not members of the Association.

THE GRANITE CITY.

The Order of Eastern Star held its regular meeting Monday evening in Electa hall. After the business meeting dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served.

TABLES IN PLAY.

Tables were in play at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City Club Wednesday evening and some good scores were recorded. It remained for Robert Reed and James H. Penman to carry off the honors of the evening.

THE GRANITE CITY.

The "last social before Lent" of the Granite girls was held on Monday evening in Protection hall, Johnson building. There was an entertainment during the evening, interspersed with dancing. Refreshments were served by the club members during the evening.

MANAGERS OF PUBLIC BURIAL PLACES.

A mass meeting for women was held at the Wollaston Congregational church on Sunday afternoon Rev. E. A. Chase spoke on "Women's share in the King's business." Soloists and an orchestra participated and the congregational singing of Alexander's songs was enjoyed.

THE QUINCY Y.M.C.A.

The mandolin club furnished the music at a banquet given on Wednesday at the Hotel Vendome.

The following evening they gave an entertainment in the Morgan Memorial hall. There was an entertainment during the evening, interspersed with dancing. Refreshments were served by the club members during the evening.

THE FIFTH BUSINESS MEETING.

Considerable business was attended to at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Ladies auxiliary of the Houghs Neck Associates, held at the Associate's hall Houghs Neck, Thursday evening. President Mrs. Nel J. Hough presided.

The first business of the meeting was the adopting of the name of Houghs Neck Ladies Associates. The resignation of Mrs. Clara Catarus as treasurer was read and accepted and Mrs. E. C. Piper was elected to fill the vacancy. Relief committee was appointed to take care of the sick and needy. It was voted that a penny collection be made at each meeting to help this cause along. The following committees were appointed by the chair, finance, Mrs. Katherine Regan, Mrs. Oliver G. Fosdick and Mrs. Waldo L. Hutchins, auditing, Mrs. P. F. O'Brien, Mrs. M. L. Harvey and Mrs. Alice Stewart.

It was decided to hold a winter party at the parish house. After the regular business, tea was served and a social hour was enjoyed.

W. B. POLLACK PROMOTED.

Walter Briesler Pollack formerly of Quincy has been elected vice-president of both the Western and Eastern Trunk Lines, the former operating in connection with the N. Y. C. & H. R.R. a line of freight steamers between Buffalo and Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports, and the latter (in connection with the Rutland R.R.) a line of freight steamers between Ogdensburg and Erie. The two lines are the largest in the Great Lakes system, which means that the marine divisions of the Lakes and seaboard are to be placed under one responsible head.

The second degree staff of Mr. W. B. Pollack, will hold its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. George E. Thomas, 28 Newton street. Mrs. Smith Barrington of Grand View street, will speak on "Temperance work in other lands."

The alarm from Box 35 at 11:04 Friday was unnecessary. A fire was being built in the furnace of Hancock hall and the smoke pouring into the street, led some one to think there was a fire and the alarm was pulled.

Washington's Birthday the High school team will play the fast Ridge Manual team of Cambridge at the high school gym, Howe, R. Baker and Mr. C. C. Baker will be back in playing form and the game will be well worth seeing. The Cambridge team are considered one of the fastest teams around the hub. The game will begin at 3 o'clock.

Next week Thursday, the Shakespearian society of Atlantic visits the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, instead of holding a regular meeting.

On February 26th the Friday club will be entertained by Mrs. Otto A. Haywood of Coddington street. Chrestians, Saints and Legends of Venice will be the subject of papers under the leadership of Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney.

It was rather a surprise that of a number of the time he had a sailing vessel he could successfully run such a blockade, and when a few years later, a British naval officer good-naturedly asked Capt. Howes how he did it, the latter laughingly replied that he sank his ship outside the British line and the Yankee skipper became an object of his feelings.

Capt. Howes had been seriously sick only since Feb. 8 when he had to take to his bed with a severe attack of diabetes. Since Wednesday he had been unconscious most of the time and gradually awakened until the end Sunday morning.

Capt. Howes' death was learned with the deepest regret by the old sailors at the home. Every man of them idolized the captain, and though he had been with them only a short time he had endeared himself to all by his acts of kindness, his personal interest in all, especially the young and infirm sailors, and his strict adherence to the rules of the square.

Capt. Howes was born in Chatham, Mass., Jan. 23, 1836. Like most boys of the town, he was away at sea when only a youngster and learned the details of the sea thoroughly.

He was commander of a deep-sea ship the "Sea Witch" and subsequently the bark "Vesper" and the ship "Whealanthea, N. Small and the Sea Witch, which bewitched the British steel ships off Delagoa bay.

Capt. Howes retired from the sea and became a successful merchant in all the oceans of the world as a master mariner for 45 years, and a six or seven years before the mast. Three years ago he was appointed commander of the "Sailors" Snug Harbor, a home for merchant marine sailors, on the death of Capt. Jayne, and he had been a resident of this city ever since.

It was during his stay here that Capt. Howes had the good fortune to know him in his company. He was a man of refinement and culture, gentle and whole-souled and had an inexhaustible fund of interesting stories of his trips around the world. He is survived by his wife, Rev. Alfred Ray Atwood of Woburn, and their two daughters, Anna and Ethie, the wife of Charles Murphy, Edward L. Bean, John W. Ryan, Dr. Frederick E. Jones, George B. Gavin, Thomas P. Moran, John W. Graham, Hon. Eugene C. Hulman, Dr. C. J. Lynch, Hon. Henry O. Fairbanks, Charles C. Hearn, Dr. Frederick J. Peirce, Edward J. Sandberg, Dr. John P. Raymond, George W. Abbott, Mrs. A. G. Olney, Mrs. Herbert Ward, Mrs. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. Joseph M. Sheahan, Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Miss Georgiana Lane, Miss Steel, Harrisburg, Mary Elson, Chattanooga and the ships Mary S. Whelton, Annie N. Small and the Sea Witch, which bewitched the British steel ships off Delagoa bay.

Poetry.

A LONGING.

Alfred J. Fox, Atlantic.

I long to go back to the scenes of my childhood.
Where magnolia bloom in gorgeous array,
Where grows the oak, the pine and the cedar,
Where roll the waters of a beautiful bay.

I long to stroll thro' the fields and the meadows.
Where blossoms and buttercups in profusion doth grow,
Or linger on the banks of a deep, winding stream,
And watch its waters as they gently flow.

I long to see the corn fields waving, the shade-trees bending before sun's m'ber's breeze,
To hear the hum of bee and insect,
Or birds singing sweetly in the tops of the trees.

I long to bathe in the deep, cool waters, to swim in the shade of the sheltering trees.
Way down in my heart today comes a longing to go back to the scenes of my happy childhood.

Notes and Comments.

We can all scare up money enough for the car fares to Washington to attend the inauguration now that we know that the hotels there are not to be allowed to charge over ten dollars per day.

Feb. 22 will be a notable day in many respects not alone because of Washington's birthday but because the fleet is due home that day. It is scheduled to arrive Monday afternoon at Hampton Roads.

The only survivor of the party of Eskimos brought to this country from Greenland twelve years ago by Commander Peary, has entered Manhattan college, in order to prepare himself to become a teacher of his own people. He is now 18 years of age. All of the Eskimos who came with him died of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Mary McCoy, aged eighty-three, is said to be the oldest woman an postmaster in the United States, has resigned her position at Sheakleyville, Pa., which she has filled for forty years. Mrs. McCoy was appointed by President Johnson and in the early years of her service carried mail from Medeville, in addition to performing her other duties.—Boston Transcript.

President Roosevelt has declined a legacy of $10,000 from Ben. Hadley, the East Somerville, reclusive, saying that he will under no consideration accept a present from private individuals. Roosevelt is particular than we would be along this line, says the Athol Chronicle, and we hope no one will hesitate, if they have the means and disposition, to leave us a legacy of $10,000.

Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal Court of Chicago is advocating a national referendum for the reform of the Windy City's wild boys. The annual report of Justice Olson says: "The city of Cleveland is now following the example of European cities and conducting a most extensive experiment of this character. It has a great public farm, consisting of some 2,000 acres, and a model court, far removed from the city. On that large tract are placed at different points the correctional and charitable institutions of the city. We urge the desirability of Chicago's adopting a similar plan for the handling of its minor criminal offenders."

The readiness with which men, and also women, in this era, kill each other, is only exceeded by the promptness with which they will kill them, they kill themselves. Not only does it "seem" from reports in the newspapers, that murder and suicide are on the increase in the United States, but the statistics prove it, abundantly and sadly. Not alone despotic characters, schooled in the drawing room with strict rules, for whom violence is always to be anticipated, but young men and women, born to position and accustomed to refined associations, are numbered with increasing, alarming frequency, in the category of criminals and suicides. It is a sad fact that while a sixteen year old girl whose folly was not endorsed by her family, something must be wrong with our society, our civilization, our education, our religion, when life is held so cheap. There is much suffering and distress, but not more always. And the country there is less than in most, with prompt relief and larger opportunity. This phenomenal calls for study and remedy.—Universal Leader.

Hyde Park added six to the teaching corps of its public schools in 1908, including a physician training director, a teacher of sewing, and a teacher of manual training.

A male may never be known to kick and yet around his heels is no place for small children; for after the explosion retorts won't meet the peers, nor clubs soon turns sour and spoils.

If you know a good thing, tell your neighbor about it. It will help him about his work, and it surely can't do you any harm. Bottled-up goodness' soon turns sour and spoils.

When horses object to the curvycomb it is a pretty sure sign that sometimes they have been hurt by a careless or cruel caretaker. All animals, even the wildest, are ready won by kindness, and have no fear of man so long as their confidence in him is not betrayed.

To make money? Certainly, in all honorable ways; but while making money, and after that, the question is how to make the world more beautiful, all the living creatures in it happier, and the men and women in it wiser and better without end.—Christian Register.

It may be of interest to local horse-owners to know that a bill has been introduced into the Massachusetts Legislature to provide for the registration of all horse drawn vehicles, with a fee of $1 for a single horse and $3 for a two-horse team. He moved reference to Executive.

Where grows the oak, the pine and the cedar,
Where roll the waters of a beautiful bay.

I long to stroll thro' the fields and the meadows.
Where blossoms and buttercups in profusion doth grow,
Or linger on the banks of a deep, winding stream,
And watch its waters as they gently flow.

I long to see the corn fields waving, the shade-trees bending before sun's m'ber's breeze,
To hear the hum of bee and insect,
Or birds singing sweetly in the tops of the trees.

I long to bathe in the deep, cool waters, to swim in the shade of the sheltering trees.
Way down in my heart today comes a longing to go back to the scenes of my happy childhood.

Poetry.

THE DREAMS AHEAD.

Edwin Carlile Litsey.

Would what we do in this world of ours,
Were it not for the dreams ahead?
For the thorns are mixed with the blooming flowers.

No matter which path we tread,
And each of us has his golden goal,
Stretching far into the years;
And ever he climbs with a hopeful soul.

With alternate smiles and tears,
That dream ahead is what holds him up
Through the storms of a ceaseless fight;
When his lips are pressed to the worn
wood's cup,

And clouds shut out the light.

To some it's a dream of high estate,
To some it's a dream of wealth;
To some it's a dream of true with Fate,

In a constant search for health.

To some it's a dream of home and wife;
To some it's a crown above;

The dreams ahead are what makes each life—

The dreams—and faith—and love.

Notes and Comments.

—Mrs. Maud Wood Park and Miss Mabel Willard have started together to make a tour around the world, studying the condition of women in different countries as they go. They will visit Japan first. They expect to be gone two years.

—The "January" telephone directory will be out March 1st, so we are informed. The company are seriously considering abolishing the quarterly issue owing to the enormous expense. The book may in the future be issued only three times a year.—Winthrop Sun.

—Miss Estella Finch, an American, who has been for a long time connected with the seamen's missions at Yokosuka and other naval bases, has been granted naturalization by the Japanese home department. This is the first instance in Japan of the naturalization of a woman.

—It seems the fashion at Houghs Neck to organize clubs. The young boys have banded together and have called their club the Houghs Neck Young Boys' Christian Association. Eugene P. LaBrecque was elected president, Fred Baird, vice president and Wallace Coughlan, secretary and treasurer.

—The Madrid Mundo says that the telephone, the telegraph, the post card, motoring and other modern things are rapidly doing away with long phrases and pretty speeches. Terceros is the general rule now days. At that rate men will speak in telegraphic style a century hence.

—The baneful effects of the crude and inartistic "comic supplement" of the various Sunday newspapers are pointed out by Herman Scheffers in the March Lippincott. Scheffers' article declares that such supplements need only have a demoralizing influence on the youth of the land, and he puts up some mighty good arguments in support of his theory.

—The preparations for an old home week plan in the different cities of Massachusetts are few and far between. It has been a failure in many places where it has been tried. It is the spirit of the plan and the elimination of a welcome extended to the sons and daughters, not for the money they might bring to spend but for themselves alone, it could be made a most satisfactory festivity. One is justified in feeling a little shy about going back to the old home if he has reason that he is to be with an enthusiasm based on the size of his pocket-book.—Haverhill Gazette.

—The new method of providing for the unemployed by auctioning them off in return for their food, lodging and clothing is indeed a novel manner of meeting the exigencies of the situation. The fact that 250 human beings in one place were compelled to sell themselves for sale in return for the bare necessities of life tells in a most graphic manner the dire straits to which some people have become reduced in this prosperous age. The desperate condition of thousands in this country is truly appalling. The poor we have, as we always have, the only remedy of the unemployed is fast becoming an important factor in our economic system.—Banker and Tradesman.

—Doctor Wats laid out a good program for children. "With books and work and healthful play let my first year be passed," was the wish he put into the mouths of children. Every child ought to have work to do and give it. Every child ought to work up to the limit of healthful effort, and every child ought to play enough to make every day a happy one. We are doing wrong in two directions. We are making several hundred thousand children work to the limit of exhaustion and robbing them of the possible lead in education and many lives. There are letting a much larger number of children scattered throughout the country spend their time in idleness, making it certain that they will come to maturity of years unfit to be useful members of society. Well-bred children like to work, and will gladly volunteer to do kind work for their elders. This may play it off, as is not too much of it.—Christian Register.

—It is not astonishing to learn that the deposits in Massachusetts savings banks last year did not show their usual increase over the year preceding. It would be surprising if it did, in view of the deposits in individual accounts prevailed through most of the twelve months. That they did a little better than hold their own is gratifying, and they are pretty certain to do much better this year. Whether the banks can continue to earn enough to pay dividends at present rates is another question. The banks are not that they cannot. In this State and in New York the tendency is toward a reduction in interest rates and savings institutions are naturally affected by the movement. While money is cheap in the open market it is not easy to lend at a high rate. Money will always fetch what it is worth to the borrower, and more.—Lowell Courier Citizen.

For the Patriot:
LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

UNVEILING OF PORTRAIT.

A large attendance was present in Faxon hall Saturday evening at the unveiling of a portrait of Capt. John Erickson. The exercises were held under the auspices of Court John Erickson, No. 155, Forester's of Atlantic.

Besides the unveiling exercises, there was a very pleasing musical concert given by several well known Quincy musicians. The program opened with an overture by Kromstrom's orchestra which furnished music during the evening.

Otto Gelotte, chairman of the committee, introduced Capt. Erickson and made a few brief remarks in behalf of the committee. He then introduced the first speaker of the evening, Mayor William T. Shea. The mayor spoke of the life of John Erickson and of his connection with the famous Monitor. Erickson was the one who sent the Monitor to the Monitor, which later defeated the Merrimac. Mayor Shea said:

"This victory stayed the success of the Confederates and caused the reconstruction of every navy in the world."

The unveiling address followed the address by the Mayor and was given by Prof. H. C. Seelye, of Harvard University.

Prof. Landegar gave an interesting address on the life and works of John Erickson.

Told of his wonderful abilities and ambitions as an inventor and of the many wonderful things that he had invented, in Sweden, England and America, and also of his great thinnings that Erickson had done with compressed air and later with steam.

Two little girls Miss Hilda Cederman and Miss Hilda Erickson pulled the strings that caused the veil to drop from the beautiful picture of Erickson. The hall rang with applause as the picture was presented.

After a selection by the orchestra there were addresses by Hon. Edward P. Barry of the Governor's Council and by Bert T. Mitchell of Marlboro.

During the week he has successfully represented Senator Hale, who attempted the immediate passage of the naval appropriation bill, and also the Penrose bill, which was filibustered in the Senate.

After Mr. Mitchell's address the entertainment of the evening was taken up with a concert. The following program was rendered:

Soprano Solo: "Willow bay" lavender Miss Bertha Carlson

Violin: "Foolish gentle sweet anthem" Mr. Wesley Carlander

Duet (soprano and Miss Bertha Carlson and Ruth Colm)

Waltzes: "The Enchanters" Orchestra

Soprano Solo: "Foolish" Miss Bertha Carlson

Violin Solo: "Waltz of Scotland" Mr. Wesley Carlander

Piano accompaniment by Miss L. Carlander

The committee of arrangements was as follows:

Otto Gelotte, chairman, William E. Cederstrom, Charles Peterson, S. Cederstrom, Nels Dahlberg, Peter Johnson, John Johnson, Charles Erickson, "ex officio."

MASQUERADE BALL.

The fourth annual masquerade ball of the Norwegian Society of Quincy, will be held Saturday evening, Feb. 27, and although the weather outside was stormy, inside the hall there was a gay scene.

The hall was decorated with flags and bunting and the Stars and Stripes being used as a background for Jacobsen's orchestra.

His arrangement was bitter and he concluded it with the remark that Mr. La Follette's arguments "might better be made by a vendor of patent medicines from the tail end of a cart than from some obscure village in Wisconsin than by a senator of the United States."

It became evident yesterday that the plans for the conservation of the natural resources of the country had passed the experimental stage and have become continental instead of national, inasmuch as Canada and Mexico are giving much attention to their cooperation.

After Mr. Mitchell's address the entertainment of the evening was taken up with a concert. The following program was rendered:

A WORTHY CAUSE.

To the Editor: There is great need for contributions to pay for a few weeks' board for a deserving young man who suffers from an incipient tuberculosis. All contributions sent to F. W. Plummer, 17 Greenleaf street, Quincy, chairman of the relief committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association will be acknowledged in the Daily Ledger. Received to date:

Mrs. George W. Morton $10.00
Miss Annie L. Preseott 1.00

C. E. RALLY.

A rally of the East Norfolk C. E. Union was held in Bethany church Tuesday. The church was decorated with C. E. bunting and a large monogram studded with red and white electric lights was suspended over the platform.

The meeting opened with music led by a chorus under the direction of Madame Morey, with solo by Mr. A. L. Hayden. The devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. Hardy, Rev. A. M. Thompson and Victor E. Landstrom, the president of the Union.

William Shaw, General Secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, was the speaker on the evening. Rev. Shaw's subject was "The Past, Present and Future of Christian Endeavor." He told how in 28 years the number of societies has grown to 173,000 and how the movement has spread to every country to which Christianity has been admitted.

The need of a permanent international headquarters building was discussed and all were unanimous in their desire to do this. It is proposed to erect the new building in Boston where sufficient funds are procured.

Mr. Shaw's talk was very interesting and afforded his hearers an unusual opportunity to become informed regarding the progress of the work of the society.

After the address an offering was taken to be devoted to the Clark Memorial fund which is for the erection of a temple in Boston.

LADIES' AUXILIARY H. N. A.

The Ladies' Houghs Neck Associates held their regular bi-monthly meeting at the Houghs Neck Associates clubhouse yesterday night. President Katherine Hough presided. After the regular business was disposed of, whist was played.

The committee appointed at the last meeting for the purpose of drawing up a set of by-laws presented a set which was unanimously adopted. The ways and means committee reported that they had been able to give a small supper March 17.

Eleven tables were brought into play for whist. The winners of the prizes were as follows: First ladies' between Mrs. Arthur Dunham and Mrs. Edward Smeddy, cards were cut by both with Mrs. Smeddy getting first prize and Mrs. Dunham second. The committee then adjourned to Mrs. Boutillier. Mrs. Morey won the gentlemen's first prize, Mr. G. Bloomquist second and John Merriam the consolation prize.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Although the weather was far from pleasant Wednesday evening, a set of two and three hundred people braved the elements in order to attend the recital of organ music, by J. D. Buckingham at First church.

Mr. Buckingham was assisted by Mrs. N. S. Holling, soloist, and E. Landis Snyder, accompanist.

The program which contained two numbers was well received and gave Mr. Buckingham a decided and hearty round of applause.

Commencing with Hollin's Overture in C minor, a piece full of soft and subtle harmony the program finished with Putt's wonderful and impressive finale from Op. 22.

Another number on the program Dvorak's Hymn was especially good and was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Throughout the entire program Mr. Buckingham's playing was of a very high order, the result of years of careful systematic training.

His touch was delicate, yet firm, each note well sustained, clear, clean, sharp, heard on the organ.

Although Mrs. Holling sang but once, her voice, which is unusually sweet and clear, added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Following is the program:

Hollin—Overture in minor.
Miller—Berceuse.
Moldau—Vesperstück.
Kinders—Variations on Duke St.
Hall—Offertore in b flat.

J. D. Buckingham.

Bach—Solo—My Master ever faithful.
Dvorak—Hymn.

Chopin—Etude a sharp minor, op. 25, No. 7.
Gulmann—Sonata No. 1, d minor.

Dvorak—Humoresque.

Bized—1st Minuet from suite L'Arlésienne.
Rimsky—Flight from op. 22.

J. D. Buckingham

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac H. Walker celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage at the home of their daughter Mrs. Charles H. Williams, 35 Lincoln street, New Haven, Conn. on Wednesday evening. About two hundred guests were present. The friends of the couple called and extended their congratulations. Mr. Walker is one of the oldest police officers in point of service in the town, being at the present time an active member of the force.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were married in New Haven in 1859 by Rev. Dr. Storrs of the First Congregational church. Mrs. Walker was Miss Susan Hayden of Branford. Mr. Walker is a native of Roxbury. After their marriage they went to Quincy and after residing there a few years moved to North Weymouth, where they have been ever since. They have three children, Charles, Frank and twenty-two year old daughter Mrs. Clara L. Newton of Winthrop and three sons George H. Walker, a popular conductor on the local street railway and Horace W. and Joseph E. Walker of Weymouth. All the children are present and assisted Mr. and Mrs. Walker at the anniversary. The Chief Justice, Fitzgerald and twenty of the police officers of the town attended and presented Mr. Walker with a purse of gold.

Mr. Walker served in the Civil war in Co. H. 12th Massachusetts regiment and is a prominent member of F. S. Gould Post 58 G. A. R. and delegation attending the meeting of the Post, Woman's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans and Ladies auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were the recipients of many handsome gifts which included several hundred dollars in gold.

During the evening there was selection by an orchestra and a lunch was served.

On Lincoln's birthday, A. P. Johnson and wife entertained a large party of Swedish friends from Orange. There were 30 present who enjoyed a bountiful repast, including the pastor of the Swedish church—Alfred Transcript.

Awful! Cannibalism right in Massachusetts says the Boston Record.

TOWN MEETING CAKE.

Lucius A. Bassett.
It is like to tradition;
By custom and usage, with memory
at stake;
That honor and pleasure, to best measure,
At time of elections, with town meeting cake.

The homesteads abounded;
With manhood well rounded;
Twas only a question which genius to take;
With mirth overflowing;
While station bestowing;
Selection was sealed with the town
meeting cake.

The heart-fires are burning;
Twould seem we are burning,
To do ourselves justice for life's noblest sake;
The tinsel has tarnished,
Good counsel is furnished,
When people refresh with the town
meeting cake.

Notes and Comments.

—A woman, whose husband died recently, leaving her $2,000 life insurance, reported the sad news to her eastern relatives thusly: "Jim died this week. Loss fully covered by insurance."

—Farmers in the west say that farm products continue to be high in price because the patented breakfast foods are driving up the cost of the raw materials. The poor cattle and hens have to go hungry or pay fancy prices for what they eat. And so those who thought to find in the ready-to-eat corn-cobs and bran a way to reduce living expenses, are discovering that a saving in one direction means greater expense in another.—Old Colony Memorial.

—Goldwin Smith, writing to the Cornell Era, expresses views regarding college athletics which are finding increasing support among serious-minded alumni of many colleges. "Let us have," he says, "games by all means, but games which exercise, not exhaust, and in which all can take part. Let us have a gladiatorial spirit, not so easily quenched in the undergraduates who delight to take their exercise along the sidelines."

—As is held by accepted authorities, every employee person represents a value to the country of $1,000 when figuring this capitalized labor at a yearly interest of 6 per cent, and placing the number of employees at 6,000,000, the total value would amount to $60,000,000 or more than $1,000,000 for each working day. If the unemployed number more than 10 per cent of the total number of workers, its loss would be still greater.—Banker and Tradesman.

—Wesleyan having voted to force the young women students out, in the future, the issue will be further emphasized, probably at neighboring Tufts where President Hamilton has pointed out the distressful preponderance of young women, who not only manifest a vexation eagerness for attendance but an equally embarrassing aptitude for excelling in classes. Judged merely on the basis of value received, it might be better to keep the young women and dispense with the men.

—The use of Indiana sandstone in the new Quincy, Mass., post office seems to have struck the Boston Herald as peculiar also, for the contemporary says:

"Quincy's fine, new, up-to-date and imposing post-office is of Indiana sandstone, but the Quincy granite trimmings were not wholly ignored."

By and by Quincy herself may awake to the feeling that she has been imposed upon.—Barry Daily Times.

—Postmaster General Meyer's bet scheme, the parcels post, is tried out in two countries. Probably it can be made to appear at the end of the trial that it is a great and good scheme. It may be adopted as an entire scheme. The rural route delivery was thus first opened up. Meanwhile the postal savings bank idea—a much more worthy proposition—is shelved. If a few more pet schemes of the nature of the parcels post are adopted, we may as well bid good-bye to village life. When they get to working there will be nothing left but cities and their suburbs.—Special Leader.

—Is there not danger in extending the powers of the co-operative banks in the state so that they may do a general banking business? Originally started to promote home building and owning they have done splendid work along that line, and the time may come when they can have a hand in the community where they have done business.

—The orders on the part of the city for $30,000 to extend the main sewer of the city. Referred to Committee on Sewers.

SEWER EXTENSION.

—Councilman Whiton offered an order appropriating $475 for the location, and relocation of fire alarm boxes at Houghs Neck. Referred to Committee on Fire Department.

—Councilman Whiton offered an order appropriating $2,300 for the purchase of a portable stone crusher. Referred to the Executive.

CALENDAR.

—The orders granting the Electric Light Company a location for poles and the Telephone Co., attachments took their second reading and were to be ordained under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned at 8:55 until March 15.

—Let's retain the good old title of "White House," rather than all the "executive mansions" that there are. A house is good enough for a president of the United States to live in.—Barre Times.

—Children who are sickly.

Mothers who value their own comfort and the welfare of their children should never be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for the cure of colds, cure fevers, consumption, tooth-ache, teething disorders, headache and stomach troubles. THESE POWDERS NEVER FAIL. Sold by all Drug Stores, 25c. Don't accept any substitute. A trial package will be sent FREE to any reader who will address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

Y. M. C. A. MEET.

There was a very large attendance of citizens at Monday night's meeting of the City Council. Not only were all the seats on the main floor occupied but there were quite a few in the gallery. Many were doubtless attracted by the public hearing on the purchase of the land at Houghs Neck for a school building.

Councilman Cherrington was the only absent member.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Mayor with inclosure from the Commissioner of Public Works asking for an appropriation of $30,000 for extension of the sewer system. Referred to Committee on Sewers.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing Ezekiel C. Sargent as Civil Engineer. Placed on file.

From the Mayor with inclosure from the Commissioner of Public Works asking for an additional appropriation of $4,000 for the extension of a portion of the spring street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

From the City Solicitor giving his opinion on the questions asked by Councilman McDevitt relative to the pay of laborers of the city. Placed on file.

From the Mayor appointing Hugh P. Tracy a constable. Confirmed.

A public hearing was held at 7:45 on the petition of the Telephone Co., for attachments and removals. Mr. Hyatt appeared for the telephone company and answered a number of questions. The hearing was then closed and the order re-committed.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Citizens' Association asking for the use of the Council chamber for the public lecture by Dr. E. Chamberlain, March 10, on the New York, Brockton and Boston canal.

Laid on the table until later when Councilman Gilson offered an order granting the use of the Council chambers on that date. Adopted.

PETITIONS.

A petition was received for the acceptance of Beach street. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

Several petitions for minor licenses were received and referred.

HOUGHS NECK SCHOOL LOT.

A public hearing was held at 8 o'clock on the matter of the school lot. The school committee voted to go to the school committee for the school lot.

A representative of William Norton was the first speaker. He offered the city a lot of land, located in the center of the school district. If 50,000 feet were taken he would sell for 10 cents per foot, if 60,000 feet for 9 cents per foot and if 70,000 feet were taken he would sell for 8 cents per foot.

In reply to a question he stated that he would sell a lot of 100,000 square feet for 7 cents per foot. That he would give a right of way to the lot near the Norton lot. There are now two houses on the lot which he would move away.

No more lots were offered but several spoke of the need of a school at Houghs Neck.

SEVENTY-THIRD YEAR.

SATURDAY, MARCH 13, 1909.

PAID HIGH COMPLIMENT.

Councilman Charles M. Bryan for the past two years, president of the American Poultry association has been nominated for a third year receiving $34 out of the 404 votes cast.

This association represents the poultry industry in the United States and Canada.

It will be news to many to know that the volume of business that is done in eggs and poultry is larger than any other business in the United States, even exceeding cotton, steel or any other industry.

The general mode of procedure of the American Poultry association is to give the evidences but one being elected for a second year was very gratifying to Councilman Bryan. That he should be nominated for a third term must be particularly gratifying to Mr. Bryan.

CONCERT.

A concert was given by the young people of the Swedish Baptist church, Thursday night in the chapel, before a large and enthusiastic audience and was a grand success.

The first number on the program was a selection by the male choir and the way the different selections were rendered was a treat to hear, each term having his part down to a turn.

This was followed by Matthew Swanson who made a few remarks. Mr. Swanson said he was glad to see so many present and gave them all a cordial welcome.

A recitation by Gustav B. Blomquist followed. Mr. Swanson's remarks. This was then offered by Mr. Halquist, secretary of the Brockton Young People's society.

The next number was a song by the young ladies quartet, followed by a selection on the violin accompanied by a guitar.

Rev. Mr. Hanson then made a few introductory remarks. He was followed by J. Peterson of Brockton. Mr. Peterson, who is president of the Young People's society of Brockton said he was glad to be present on such an occasion, and that the way the different numbers were run off showed that the members who took part in the program had not worked in vain.

The next number was a selection by the men's choir, followed by a guitar solo by John Herbert. Mrs. M. Swanson then sang a solo, the ladies quartet joining in the chorus. There was another selection on the violin, followed by the last and closing number.

A committee of young ladies served refreshments in the parlor of the church during the evening.

Mr. Swanson, president of the Young People's society had charge of the concert and the way he conducted the affair shows that he was the right man in the right place.

MUSICAL VESPER SERVICE

The vesper services on alternate Sunday afternoons at First church are to be continued through March on the 14th and 28th and on Easter Sunday April 11th. The musical program for tomorrow will be:

Anterior Prelude Whiting

Give "Eare, O Shepherd of Israel"

Tenor Solo Spicker

"Why Art Thou Cast Down,

    O My Soul?"

Anterior—"Deum Misericordia" Mammatt

Organ Postlude

The music will be rendered by the organist, Mr. L. L. Lewis, Mr. Snyder at the organ. Rev. Charles B. Ames will conduct the service and he extends a cordial invitation to every one, especially the young people, to attend.

BETHANY EVENING SERVICE

The Webb Male quartet of Boston will sing at Bethany Congregational church Sunday evening and will render the following selections:

"Will hit upon your eyes"

"When we stand before the king"

"Nevin Fetter

"Abide with me"

The quartet consists of A. E. Prescott, first tenor; A. F. Cole, second tenor; G. H. Wood, baritone and W. E. Davison, bass.

TO OPERATE OLD QUARRY.

John Fallon & Sons, who recently purchased the Frederick & Field quarry, have installed new machinery and will quarry granite for monuments and burial markers.

The power plant installed includes a 125 horse power, a 40 horse power engine and a 50 horse power air compressor.

In addition to this, two large power derricks have been erected.

The quarry presents a most unique feature in the form of a fissure. The quarry was opened upwards of $5 years ago but has not been worked for fifteen years. At the present time the firm is getting out some exceptionally large sheets of granite free from knots and blemishes.

QUICKING GROWING.

Some idea of how rapidly Quincy is growing can be had by consulting the office of the Inspector of Buildings.

Quincy covers a large territory and is in progress in all sections.

There is hardly a day passes but one or more parties apply to the inspector for permits to erect new buildings.

For this year there has been quite a boom in the building line. But two months of the year have gone yet during these two months the Inspector of Buildings has issued permits for new buildings and for additions to existing buildings that aggregate to nearly $150,000.

It might be said that the larger part of this amount is for new buildings.

A WORTHY CAUSE.

To the Editor:

The statement that the exhibition of paintings in New York by a Spanish painter drew an attendance of 29,461 on the last Sunday of the exhibition, and that the total attendance was 100,000 also that the artist will take home with him between $30,000 and $40,000 as the result of the sales, disposes of the idea that a modern artist never makes any profit.

CITY BRIEFS.

Frank L. Cross of Wayland street is in New York on business this week.

The Knockers' club are preparing for another feast in the very near future.

W. A. Bradford of the W. A. Bradford Co., returned from the south last week much improved in health.

Although there was a light storm Sunday afternoon the weather was not severe and there were many people about.

The Granite City club will take action on the question of the annual banquet the meeting tonight.

Mrs. S. I. Wood, the well known Quincy milliner, is in New York City. She will return on Wednesday.

Miss Alice Keith Prescott has been a recent guest of Miss Ethyl Bradley at Gloucester returning on Wednesday accompanied by Miss Bradley who spent a few days in Quincy.

Under a new rule of the City Council adopted this year, no application for a license to collect junk or for a permit to transport liquor, will be acted upon unless received on or before the first Monday in April.

Leo P. Noonan of Quincy is making a strong bid for the regular catcher's position on the Boston College nine this season. He caught two seasons on the H. C. team and last year was sub on the varsity. He is a member of the sophomore class.

The store in the Faxon block on Granite street recently occupied by the post office is being fitted for the Senate to provide for enlarging the channel at Wollaston street in the city. There was no opposition at any stage of the process.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell of Adams street are to make their home for a few months with Mr. and Mrs. William P. Barker of Greenleaf street.

John J. Ryan, superintendent of the Lyman school for boys will speak on criminal tendencies of children, before the Knights of Columbus club next Sunday.

The local ice men have given up all idea of getting any more ice in Quincy and are planning to get their supplies from places where there is plenty of ice.

Mr. Edith B. Holway and little Marguerite, of Northborough, spent the week end with Mrs. Holway's mother Mrs. Estelle A. Boyden at Hotel Greenleaf.

Summer residents at the Quincy beaches will be glad that a bill has been reported in the House this week requiring mufflers on all motor boats.

The chug! chug! of motor boats day and night is nerve racking.

The time is not far distant when some enterprising person will erect a business block on Washington street between the two stations and the post office. There is no question but it would be quickly occupied.

The Spanish War Veterans have a meeting on Monday evening at Provincetown from the south and is at the parental home on Adams street, with his brother Lawrence H. Startevant. He has been cruising for a few months in southern waters.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson returned the first of the week from the south where they spent a few weeks most delightfully in company with congenial friends. Both enjoyed the out door life and return in good health.

The many friends of John W. Walsh who underwent a surgical operation at City Hospital will be glad to learn he is doing nicely and on the road to recovery.

CHORAL SOCIETY ORATORIO.

Music hall was filled to overflowing Tuesday night, when the Quincy Choral Society gave its first public concert.

The work produced was the Elijah of Mendelssohn, a piece as everyone knows that ranks next to the Messiah in point of beauty and difficulty to interpret.

In fact among the majority of music lovers Elijah is greeted with more enthusiasm than even the Messiah, its spirit being more modest than its magnificence, and its conception more intellectual.

The tone is purely religious, the ideas are less confined to dogma and are addressed to the imagination rather than the heart, to the aesthetic rather than the reason. The music even to the untrained ear is full of a deep and soulful beauty, that is sure to charm all who hear it.

The church was beautifully decorated with potted palms and ferns. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Davison, Benjamin F. Thomas, Mrs. Mullin Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells and Mrs. Harry Read.

Mrs. Davison was dressed in a white gown with white trimmings in brown silk. Mrs. Wells wore a handsome purple foulard and carried violets. Mrs. Read wore a black spanned net gown.

Fred Kold, David Moffat, Henry Von Emden, Percy Hall, Alan Arthur, Frederick Burdett acted as ushers.

The organ in the auditorium was the refreshment table which was presided over by Mrs. F. J. Peirce and Mrs. Charles Cherington. Mrs. Peirce wore an exquisite yellow satin trimmings with bands of gold. Mrs. Cherington wore an elaborate silk muslin gown. The table was decorated with large bouquets of double roses.

The following young ladies of the church passed sandwiches, coffee, chocolate and cake; Miss Maude Read, Miss Anna Harding, Miss Florence Young, Miss Louise Hinckley, Miss Mary Farrell, Miss Louise Wild, Miss Cora Harding, May Buckley, Miss Eleanor Nelson and Miss Helen L. Clegg.

A three piece orchestra from the Y. M. C. A. of Quincy furnished splendid music throughout the evening.

Those who were in charge of the affair were: Committee of Arrangements, Mrs. William F. Cummings, Mrs. Charles E. Cherington, Mrs. Charles K. Pierce, Mrs. Harry D. Wells and Mrs. Welcome Young. Reception committee, Mr. Edgard E. Wibley, Mr. William F. Cummings, Mrs. Charles K. Pierce, Mrs. Harry D. Wells and Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Miss Louise Wild.

Levi C. Elia an old and respected resident of Wollaston died on Saturday evening at his late residence 197 Farrington street, Wollaston. He was a veteran of the civil war having served four years in Company F, 10th Mass. volunteers. He belonged to Post 15 G. A. R. of Boston and to the Armed Battalion the same.

His funeral was held in Wollaston since 1875, and was long an active member in the Unitarian church where he leaves a large circle of mourning friends, who will miss him greatly.

He leaves three sons and two daughters: George C. and Louis E. of Wollaston; Walter, of Boston; Mrs. Herbert F. Pierce of West Newton and Mrs. Charles E. Hatch of Somerville.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the funeral service on Tuesday to pay their last respects to the memory of a noble, respected and upright life. The service was conducted by Rev. G. H. Gould of Braintree.

His impersonation of Elijah was dignified and dramatic without any of the facial contortions and obnoxious mannerisms affected by so many singers.

The soprano part was taken by Miss Josephine Knight, a widely known oratorio singer and soloist with several successes in the large eastern and southern states. Miss Knight has a brilliant soprano voice of ample range and quality. Her tones are sweet and clear, and full of expression. In the impersonation of the youth, sent by Elijah to see if the Lord had sent rain, Miss Knight sang with such power and dramatic effect that she was especially good.

Miss Adelade Origen the alto has a voice of deep and sympathetic quality, well suited to oratorio work. Her tone production and style are admirable, and she sings with an abandon that is delightful.

The tenor part was sung by H. Lamperly, who was one of the features of the evening. He has a tenor voice of unusual power and sympathetic quality, and his intelligent and sincere interpretations were decidedly pleasing.

It was very unfortunate for the audience that Mr. Murphy's part was so short.

The orchestra which included the first twelve players of the Boston Festival orchestra, played understandingly, and added much to the pleasure of the performance.

Arthur S. Wonsor the conductor deserves much credit for the success of the work. Mr. Wonsor is a musi-

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CLUB.

At the meeting of the Wollaston Club on Tuesday evening Henry C. Long of Boston spoke on the "Commercial Improvement of Boston."

At the head table were: President, Frederick W. Palmer, senator Eugene C. Hinman, reporter Louis F. R. Langeler, Walter E. Piper, Charles P. Loring, Rev. Carl G. Horst, Walter J. Wellington and George D. Follett.

In Boston, Mr. Long said, the tendency is to lay back, content with the good things of life and thank God that the port makes the commerce. The work is so perfect that they hate to trust it to the butchering attacks of the mass of the people, especially the bantamists headed by the democratic party, which has had a number of questionable wickedness during the last few years. On the other hand, there are public men of high standing, like Harvey N. Shepard, Robert Luce and others who believe strongly in the principle of democracy and who do not fear the unwashed people as much as others do.

OLD COLONY BASEBALL LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the Old Colony baseball league held in Rockland on Sunday, the Quincy association was granted the franchise to fill the vacancy in the league. Several applications for admission into the league had been received, but Quincy seemed to have first call.

The committee appointed to interview the writer, reported very favorably for Quincy, saying that general conditions, grounds, grandstand etc were excellent.

This gives the Quincy men behind the movement the start and opportunity they have been looking for and from now on will represent the club.

The first dish served was Ham. This was the first time the ham was served in white sauce. The little mounds were perfect with a bit of parsley on each, around which was poured the sauce, and they were just as good to eat as they looked. One could also use ham and chicken, or tongue with ham or veal. She gave valuable information regarding the different dimples and hamkin dishes, and how to line the moulds.

The second dish appealed especially to those who have learned the many various things that can be prepared in a casserole, and the advantage of having a casserole for the average family. Mrs. Hill showed in detail each step as regarding preparing the tomatoes, macaroni, etc.

The Truffled Filet mousse was a dish that the writer had never seen before. The fish was first lined with truffle cut to fit depressions in the mould but as Mrs. Hill said, for ordinary occasions a plain mould would do just as well. A lady asked her to tell what a truffle was and Mrs. Hill explained where they grow and how they are hunted. They are a great delicacy. The mouse was served with a delicious hollandaise sauce and garnished with potato rosettes slightly browned and would please the eye as well as the taste of every one. She explained how to make the breast of chicken instead of fish.

The Halibut au gratin en Remouque were delicious and she said there were endless ways of preparing fish after this method and having very delectable dishes. Most of us do not use enough fish. She told of the Indian mounds and the patches of wild onions, the different roots and animal foods for her family. These prehistoric people did little cooking but with natural instinct they got all the elements needed.

The Quincy Patriot
SEVENTY-THIRD YEAR.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1909.

NEW YORK APPRECIATIVE.

Editor of the Patriot:
Father Time was turned back a few paces when I heard Edward E. Bullock of my one-time home town of Wollaston sing a few of his beautiful love songs. It was a source of much pleasure to me Wednesday afternoon when I had a telephone call from my friend Bullock, and I very promptly accepted his kind invitation to attend a concert given by the Wollaston Temple quartet of Boston, gave in this city Wednesday evening. Really, it would do the Quincy people's good to see how much their good fellow citizen is appreciated by a select New York audience.

Yours very truly,
J. P. Seely.

New York, March 18th.

QUARTERLY CONVENTION.

GEORGE W. JONES

No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy

GEORGE T. ANGELL.

George Thorndyke Angell, who died at 2:05 Tuesday morning in his apartment in the hotel Westminster, had been president of the Massachusetts Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals for more than 40 years. He was instrumental in its formation and had made him for years foremost in that field.

Mr. Angell who was born in Southbridge, June 5, 1822, was the only child of Rev. George Angell a Baptist clergyman of that place. His father died when he was but three years old, and as he was the youngest daughter of Paul Thorndyke of Tewksbury supported her family by teaching school, when he was fourteen Mr. Angell went to Boston and entered a dry goods store on Hanover street. He remained there for two or three years, and was then sent to a private school, and was to be educated for college. He entered Brown University, in the autumn of 1842, but finding the expense there higher than he could afford, after a year's study, he left Providence and went to Hanover, N. H., entering Dartmouth. There he was graduated in 1846.

He returned to Boston for one year, and then entered a law office. In 1851 he was admitted to the bar and entered the office of Samuel E. Sewall, with whom he subsequently formed a partnership which continued for fourteen years.

Mr. Angell became interested in the cause of animals, and as far back as 1846 he provided by will for the care of the animals in his property, after his death, in "circumstances in schools, Sunday schools and elsewhere information calculated to prevent cruelty to them."

Early in 1868 he led actively in the formation of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. At that time he was enjoying a large and lucrative practice and had substantially abandoned his profession and devoted the greater part of his time to his philanthropic work. The society was incorporated in March 1868.

From that time on until his death Mr. Angell had been actively engaged in his chosen work. As editor of "Our Dumb Animals" his name has become a household word from one end of the country to the other.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

The winter is getting ready to go. And I will tell you how I know That spring is laying her plans very plain, In several ways that I shall name.

One tree that I notice among the rest Is changing the color of her dress, For the one she's worn each winter day Has been a very sober gray.

But now it shows a brighter hue As if it had been put on new; And the little buds that looked so dead Now are showing a brown and red.

The mornings, of course, are still quite cold. But nothing at all like those of old. But every day there's less chill Which the sun getting warm soon helps to kill.

The ice that's banished along our coast Is breaking up like a defeated host, And rapidly passing out to sea Until it ceases to be.

The housekeeper, noting the change in scene, Has started in her house to clean; And nothing served, if served at all, From the kitchen table or in the hall.

The still small voice with frugal mind Is seeking ardent for us to wind. And holding for mirths high and low To give the other fellows a go.

The stowman with counter piled up high, To you bargains now will try; And if you buy he seems content Though he never was known to make a cent.

The girls are studying the new spring styles, While the dealer, his face all wreathed in smiles, Imports from Paris the latest creation. To live a life of short duration.

And so there are, as I said before, Signs and wonders here, galore. To prove that winter's going away, While spring comes in her gentle way.

Robert E. Gifford

Notes and Comments.

—What a change it must be for Mr. Roosevelt, after being guarded for more than seven years wherever he went by secret-service men, to travel alone around New England, and to get a seat in the street car, and have on an occasional passer-by recognize him!

—Fresh attention has been called to the extraordinary matrimonial laws of Rhode Island by the uniting of three couples, consisting in each case of uncle and niece, who secured releases from the city clerk and were married by a notary. It is doubtful if in any other state of the Union such an alliance could be contracted thus readily.—Hingham Journal.

—Arrangements are complete for opening an industrial school in Marion under the auspices of the Educational and Industrial Aid Association, to teach carpentry, sewing, millinery and loom-weaving. George C. Thomas and Colonel C. H. Converse, summer visitors at Marion, have offered to match every dollar raised by popular subscription to support and extend the course.

—Ex-President Roosevelt—by the way, he is the only ex-president—starts from New York for Africa March 23. Meantime he is employed at various jobs about his Long Island estate, chopping wood, repairing fences and the like, and positively refuses to be photographed or interviewed. Why he chose 23 as his starting date is not known, but we know the enthusiasm of that number.—Mansfield News.

—Japan, like the new president and with good reason. He likes Japan, and probably better than any other American statesman, understands the eastern situation in which she plays so important a part. His administration is certain to reflect the most liberal sentiment toward all the world.

—Having approved of Mr. Roosevelt's course in frowning upon and helping defeat the mischievous anti-Japanese maneuvers on the Pacific coast, President Taft will, we may all be sure, square his own conduct in office by the same broad and liberal and patriotic spirit. The Taft administration means friendship for Japan.—Washington Star.

—Philadelphia has at last made the discovery of what it calls the "flat-houses." When a little more accustomed to them they will be known as "apartments" or "apartment houses." No other large city in the country has so long avoided this popular method of easy housekeeping and has finally surrendered.

—Philadelphia has a quarter of a million separate two-story dwellings, but eight and ten-story structures are now being built, mostly unknown until a very few years ago. Now they are going up with a rush.

—Several immense structures are in process of erection and a score more are in contemplation. When the "flat-houses" man strikes a city the audacity of its operations is generally in proportion to the length of time that it has been withstood.

—To the boys in the high school who are thinking about a college education it may be well to show the list of the new president and his cabinet. The list of the table of state, Yale and about him are eight other college graduates.

One member constitutes the minority. This is no accident, but it is a warning to the boys, or rather, a forecast, for it tells them the "probabilities" of the future.

—College tried me, that is, the majority say, but their education in their libraries, but no longer do they live there. For them is the world of business, of municipal usefulness, of public affairs. Even now in the room of eminence over half were college trained. The growth of science and art, if not the ability and the energy, boys, get into "harm's way" and "grind."—Scholes in Miford Gazette.

INTERESTING ADDRESSES.

John Ryan, principal of the Lyman School for boys, addressed the local council Knights of Columbus Sunday afternoon, and some more interesting talk could not have been desired. Besides Mr. Ryan there were two others not down on the program, namely, Thomas M. Devlin, agent of the State Board of Charity, and Judge Albert E. Avery of the East Norfolk district court.

Mr. Ryan's talk was on the subject: "The girl tendencies of boys," saying that the girls were what the boys made them and that if the boys were made right the girls would not go wrong so quickly. He then proceeded to tell the working of the school and the kinds of boys that were there, with the result that the girls were more than half the environment that caused boys to go wrong said Mr. Ryan. Many people, he said, say that some children are born bad. That is a terrible thing to say about any child, continued the speaker, for we are all born into this world pure and holy, although we may have the germ, however, with not flourish and grow without fertile soil and if the child is surrounded with evil, the germ is sure to flourish.

Another point brought out by Mr. Ryan was, that this desire to do wrong and to be something else, to have a new desire found only in the boys of the present age. Mr. Ryan related many incidents of great men of years ago who had always been in trouble when boys and who, as history shows, had turned out to be the best of citizens.

Mr. Ryan, an even member of the Knights of Columbus, took a personal interest in at least one boy who was going wrong and endeavor, by good example and advice, to put him on the road to success. No greater or better work can be done than this of uplifting the boys who have been so unfortunate as to go into the best of citizens.

It is not the boy who is to blame so much as society and the surroundings, both at home and on the street, said Mr. Ryan. "And," he continued, "when you meet a boy on the street cursing and swearing, if you take him aside and talk to him seriously, he told something of his wrongs. He is a local boy, having lived here for a long time. He has nearly all his life. He is a splendid example of a self-made man, having worked hard to pay his way through Boston University. He then taught school in New Hampshire and Maine until he was appointed to his present position.

Thomas M. Devlin of the State Board of Charity then spoke to the members. He came to hear Mr. Ryan and was not prepared to speak. This did not stop him, however, and he proceeded to give an interesting talk on the work where Mr. Ryan leaves off, looking after the boys when they leave the school.

He said there were three causes for the present evils among boys, namely the cheap evils among boys, the moving picture shows, and the pool room. More wrong is conceded in pool rooms in the afternoon than than anywhere else, and the same is true of carousels. If boys are kept away from Saturday night dances, it means a general uplift among both boys and girls.

He related many incidents that he has experienced in investigating the homes of some of the boys. He said that often the boys try to get into houses, thereby encouraging them to do wrong. He heartily seconded Mr. Ryan's urgent appeal to the community to take up the work of helping boys.

He too was given a rising vote of thanks. Both Mr. Ryan and Mr. Devlin are Knights of Columbus members and are enthusiastic over the general movement to have Knights help in this work.

Judge Avery, City Solicitor, McAnarney, T. J. Carey and others said that they were authorized to make any rates in Quincy.

In reply to questions Mr. Nichols said that often the company was asked to get into houses, thereby encouraging them to do wrong. He heartily seconded Mr. Ryan's urgent appeal to the community to take up the work of helping boys.

He replied to a question by Councilman Flynn offered an ordinance prohibiting regular patrolmen from making personal visits to private homes for public entertainment. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

Councilman Flynn offered an ordinance providing that in the absence of regular patrolmen their places be taken by men from the Reserve list in the order of their civil service rating that the company would soon be on a paying basis.

In reply to a question by Councilman Flynn he said the company had expended $375,000 in improving the plant and bringing it up to date. The deficit of the company for the year ending January 30, 1908, was $8,000. For the seven months ending Feb. 1, 1909 was about $250. There was every indication that the company would soon be on a paying basis.

After some discussion as to the right of the city to pass such an ordinance the order was referred to the Ordinance Committee.

JUST A KID.

(Written for The Boston Journal.)

I want to be just what I am,
Not what the folks call a sham.
You're shocked, I suppose,
'Cos there's smut on my nose,
My clothes is all covered with jam.
Well, I don't want to pass for 'n an-glic!

I'm a kid, 'n that's just what I am,
'N I want to be just what I am.

I want to be just what I am,
Not shut up tight like a clam.
I don't want to be told
That my tongue I must hold
When there's company, 'n look like a lamb.

I don't mean for 'n old wooden figger!

I'm a kid, 'n that's just what I am,
'N I want to be just what I am.

I want to be just what I am,
I want to be just what I am,

'N pretend ter you all,
That my appetite's small,
When my tummy I'm longish ter crum-
No, I ain't, 'n old pick 'n' carry.

I'm a kid, 'n that's just what I am,
'N I want to be just what I am.

With millions of tons of coal on hand, the anthracite coal companies are said to be in a position to withstand a long strike should the miners decide to go out. How is your coal bin?

New York city's growth and its closer attention to matters of public health will increase the expenses of the department of health for next year $26,642 in salaries. This year the salary list is $1,643,079.

President Taft will receive a warm welcome when he comes to the marriage feast of the Boston Merchant's association and the Chamber of Commerce, which will probably be held late in April.

The hopeful New Yorkers who are going to dig up an island in a Nova Scotia bay, in the hope of finding treasure buried by Captain Kidd, will probably burn some money there, even if Captain Kidd did not.

Free tar on coffee is all right, but it hardly seems fair to have a free breakfast drink and an eight-cent duty on tea the supper drink. It looks as though men were favored when women's favorite beverage is taxed.

An $80,000,000 bond issue by the Pennsylvania railroad, is stated to be brought out soon. An issue of this magnitude will prove the financial standing of this great corporation, but there is no doubt they will get the money, for this commodity is becoming more plenty, and is looking for investment.

And now the weather department states that the ruggedness and vitality of the American people is due to the variable kind of weather we have. But possibly this statement is only in extenuation of some of the mistakes of the weather bureau, and is designed to divert attention from the weather forecaster.—Old Colony Memorial.

The demand for vocational schools is growing daily in many parts of the country, and especially in those sections where manufacturing interests predominate. The success of the textile schools in this state has been marked and their value is generally recognized as the good work of the established and coming schools.

Appropriation for the new school has been made and they will be ready to open in the fall.

It is a strange fact that one of the greatest achievements possible in the working mechanism of a hotel is successfully introduced in foreign hotels, and although manufactured in New York is only beginning to be heard of in the United States. It is known as an escalator, and is a moving runway or stairs for carrying the passenger from the lower to the upper stories.

Colonel Flynn said it was a simple matter of common sense. Putting the city will enable them to reduce the price.

Positions have been circulated in every section of the beach and have been signed by nearly every resident. They were addressed to the finance committee and were presented to them Monday.

Colonel Flynn said they have been able to make money and have made it. It was all a bluff to say how much they were losing.

Colonel Flynn said it was a simple matter of common sense. Putting the city will enable them to reduce the price.

Colonel Flynn said if anyone knew of a corporation that made any reductions, unless they were obliged to. He did not believe in making any.

A roll call was asked on the question of the proposed bill. It was then accepted by roll call by a vote of 15 yes and 4 no as follows:

REAL STATE MEN HAPPY.

The ideal weather of Sunday was the means of bringing many people to Houghs Neck looking for cottages for the coming summer. Suitable cottages are very easy to obtain as many of them have been turned into winter houses and the tenants have secured the services of the carpenter.

The real estate offices did a large business and what cottages could be obtained were quickly hired.

The fervor of the movement to annex New York excited him so as to allow harpoons to keep open Sunday from 1 P. M. to 11 P. M. is only exceeded by the mixed character of the advocates, says the Boston Advertiser. Twisted reform, like politics, makes strange bed-fellows. We find in favor of the "reform" (7) such people as the Rev. Dr. Schenck, president of the Citizens' Union, Miss Frances A. Kellar, of the Bureau of Municipal Research; Rev. Dr. John H. Peters and ex-Police Commissioner McAdoo. And the arguments are curious. The advocates will say that the real estate men are for the annexation. The real estate men are for the right to do legally what they now pay the police for permission to do illegally. "It is better to have a law that you can enforce," said Miss Keller, "than to have one that is not enforced." New York is disposed to confess that it cannot enforce a law which other cities do enforce.

MOTIONS

Colonel Walsh offered an order for a light on River street. Referred to Executive.

HOUGHS NECK SCHOOL LOT.

Upon motion of Colonel Whiton the order for a school lot at Houghs Neck was recalled from the Finance Committee.

Colonel Whiton then moved it be referred to the joint committee on Finance and Public Buildings.

Colonel Gilson. It is the duty of the Finance Committee either to report the city has no money or that the inspector says the majority of the houses now in course of construction are winter houses.

The tradesmen are of the opinion that the coming summer will be a good one for business and sincerely hope for good weather.

CASTORIA.

Signature of Castoria.

CITY COUNCIL.

Discussion of the matter of granting the Citizens Gas Light Co. permission to lay mains, the annual appropriation order and incidentally the Houghs Neck school lot prolonged Monday night's meeting of the City Council until after 10:30 o'clock. Councilmen Gardner and Russell were absent.

A venire was received for the drawing of our grand juror and Councilman Flaherty assisted the City Clerk in drawing the name of Stephen E. Wilson.

Colonel Whiton forwarded a communication from the secretary of the Commonwealth relative to approval of a certificate of corporation of the Wollaston Tennis Club. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

BATES AVENUE.

Petitions were received for resurfacing of Bates avenue. Referred to Committee on Streets.

HOUGHS NECK SCHOOL LOT.

Petitions were received from Houghs Neck residents protesting against the Norteman lot and favoring the Cavanagh lot, also a petition favoring the Norteman lot. These petitions were referred to the Finance Committee. Later in the evening the petitions were referred to the joint committee on Finance and Public Buildings.

A petition was received from the Scandinavian Socialist Labor Association for a license to run a wrestling exhibition. Laid on the table until later when the license was granted.

Petitions were received from the Telephone Co., for attachments on Gay street and to lay underground conduits on Washington street between Temple and Hancock streets. Referred to Committee on Streets.

GAES MAINS.

The Committee on Streets reported an order granting the Citizens Gas Light Co. permission to lay mains.

Councilman McDevitt offered an order requesting the Mayor to obtain a permit for a lot of land adjoining the Coddington school lot for a playground. Adopted.

Councilman Flynn offered an order for a light on Cyril street. Referred to the Executive.

APPROPRIATION ORDER.

The annual appropriation order took its second reading.

The amendments offered changed the ordinance relative to Houghs Neck so as to put some restrictions on the buildings erected there.

Councilman Whiton requested that all members of the council visit Houghs Neck before the next meeting and look over the school lots.

CODDINGTON PLAYGROUND.

Councilman Nowland offered an order requesting the Mayor to obtain a permit for a lot of land adjoining the Coddington school lot for a playground. Adopted.

Councilman Flynn offered an order for a light on Cyril street. Referred to the Executive.

WATERING OR DRINKING.

The rules were then suspended.

Councilman Richards offered the motion to amend the order he had introduced.

The Potato Salad was a revelation compared with potato salad served by the majority. The surface was divided into four sections by means of thin slices of olives and the spaces with thin strips of bacon. The dressing was made of boiled eggs shredded whites of eggs, and chopped green pickles, a harmonious blending of hues. Some salads will not stand "fatiguing" but you can mix and mix potato salad until you are fatigued.

Upon motion of Councilman Bryant the following item was added "By inspection of Miles $50."

The rules were then suspended.

Councilman Nowland moved the motion to amend the order he had introduced.

The gas sold Milton and Brookline is purchased from the New England Gas Co., 20¢ or 45 cents and is sold to the consumers for 50 cents.

The Quincy company pay 45 cents and charges $1.50 making 23¢ 1-2 per cent profit. If gas can be sold in Milton and Brookline for 80 cents we are in a peculiar position. A company is about to start in Weymouth for 50¢ a month. The gas will be 45¢.

Support of motion to amend the order he had introduced.

Councilman Bryant said figures are not to be considered. The gas company have no heart. The fact is we are paying $1.50 for gas and Milton 80 cents. He hoped the company would be given nothing until they asked for it.

Councilman Flynn said the company had a good thing and it is a question if we should furnish the tools for them. He did not want to block the company but wanted public service was very improper. He considered his duty as a citizen paramount to any other party.
